1 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. Let's
2 get on the record. This is 188, and this is 3 David's project along with Mark and Bill and 4 any others. Let's go to 188 and get any 5 further instructions here. Carl.

6 MR. HAMILTON: On Page 1, the 7 highlighted portion says "on notice as 8 provided in Rule (current Rule 200)," and so 9 forth, "under the law of the place in which 10 the deposition is taken or under the law of 11 the State of Texas, as if the deposition was 12 taken there." Does that mean we get a 13 choice?

14 What if the procedures for taking the 15 deposition, time elements and so forth are 16 different in the two jurisdictions? How do we 17 tell which jurisdiction applies? Is that what 18 that's intended to do, David, is give a 19 choice?

20 MR. JACKSON: No. The way I
21 thought this would be worked is that you 22 complied with their rules first, as far as who 23 can do it, the court reporter or the person
24 authorized to do it. And then if you didn't 25 do it that way, then you could do it under the

1 Texas rules and take your own court reporter
2 and do that. But it's the ability to take it.

3 MR. HAMILTON: But it seems to 4 me that the phrase that's talking about "under 5 the laws of" applies to the taking of the 6 deposition and not just the person that's 7 authorized to.

8 MR. JACKSON: Well, but that
9 could stretch into that Hague Evidence
10 Convention rules too. You just can't ignore
11 those rules under the Hague Evidence
12 Convention that say in some jurisdictions it's 13 illegal to take it. So if you're doing it 14 under the rules of, say, Germany and it's 15 illegal to take a deposition, then you don't 16 get to the Texas rules.

17 MR. HAMILTON: Well, let's just 18 say you're doing it under the laws of 19 Louisiana and they only give you two hours and 20 Texas gives you unlimited hours.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Carl, let me
22 see if I can fix this for you. Go down to the 23 fifth line of the shaded area where it says 24 "under the law" and insert "a person
25 authorized" before that. Now, does that help

1 you?

2 MR. HAMILTON: Yeah, if that's 3 all we're attempting to do.

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's all
5 we're talking about. We're describing the 6 person.

7 MR. HAMILTON: Okay. The next
8 thing I have is on letters rogatory. I know 9 the old rule says this, but most letters 10 rogatory have to come from a judge, from one 11 judge to another judge, and I just question 12 whether any foreign judge is going to pay much 13 attention to a letter rogatory from a clerk, 14 because historically, and at least I think by 15 federal statute or maybe it's just common law, 16 it's from one judge to another.

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Does anybody
18 know that?

19 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Well, the 20 tradition started out, you know, judge to 21 judge. And I don't know why we drafted it to 22 deal with clerks unless we just didn't want to 23 bother the judge.

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Bonnie, did
25 you have something in mind on that?

1 MS. WOLBRUECK: No, sir. But 2 the present rule says that the clerk issues
3 the letter rogatory presently.

4 MR. HAMILTON: That's just the 5 present rule. I don't know how long that's 6 been there. I didn't know if that's something 7 we wanted to fix.

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: What should 9 we do?

10 MR. HAMILTON: Well, Bill said
11 earlier he didn't think that we would get to 12 that, you know, if you did it on the notice
13 provision. But I can conceive of a situation 14 where the notice provision might not be 15 appropriate or recognized or something and you 16 would have to go to the letters rogatory.

17 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Well, you
18 may need the assistance of the local judge if 19 the deponent doesn't want to be deposed.

20 MR. BABCOCK: Why don't you put 21 in there "by application of the clerk of the 22 court or the court," so that the person trying 23 to get the testimony has the alternative.

24 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Why not
25 just say "the court"?

1 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's fine
2 with me.

3 MR. HAMILTON: That's what I
4 would say, "the court," instead of "the 5 clerk," because it really needs to come from 6 the judge.

7 MR. MARKS: Well, would we have 8 to change another rule then?

9 MS. WOLBRUECK: No, I don't 10 think so.

11 MR. HAMILTON: On Page 3, the 12 first paragraph there, the highlighted portion 13 where it says, "The deposition must be taken 14 in that jurisdiction under Texas rules for 15 discovery," and so forth, conduct, signature 16 and certificate of the officer, I'm not sure 17 exactly how that works.

18 We took a deposition in California
19 recently where it was not taken pursuant to 20 any agreement that an unsigned copy could be 21 used. The witness has failed to go sign the 22 deposition, and the court reporters out there 23 by law are prohibited from releasing the 24 deposition or even filing it in the court 25 unless every lawyer who was present at the 1 deposition signs an authorization for them to 2 release it. So I'm not sure how this would 3 fit that situation, if this is an attempt to 4 say to California you've got to follow our 5 rules on this or I'm not going to do it.

6 MR. JACKSON: Is it a Texas
7 case?

8 MR. HAMILTON: Yeah, it's a
9 Texas case.

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: You can't get 11 a copy of the transcript?

12 MR. HAMILTON: We have copies, 13 but they won't release the original, and the 14 court reporter won't certify it unless all the 15 lawyers sign off on it agreeing that they can 16 release the unsigned copy and certify it.

17 MR. JACKSON: That's crazy.

18 MR. MARKS: Can you take your 19 own court reporter out there?

20 MR. HAMILTON: I suppose you
21 could, yeah.

22 MR. MARKS: Would that be a
23 problem?

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: If it's 25 San Diego or Napa Valley, David probably won't

1 care.

2 MR. McMAINS: What if David
3 goes out there and steals it from the court 4 reporter?

5 MR. JACKSON: It seems like you
6 all could agree to substitute a copy.

7 MR. HAMILTON: Well, we haven't 8 gotten to that stage yet, but we probably 9 can. I just didn't know whether this was --

10 MR. JACKSON: This is exactly 11 why this was put in there, because one of the 12 people who wrote in said they had a problem 13 with the court reporter refusing to give it to 14 anybody but the clerk, because this 188 says 15 that it has to be filed with the clerk, and 16 the clerk doesn't want it. So we just 17 incorporated all of our rules for signing and 18 filing. What you should be able to do when 19 you get this rule is send them a copy of our 20 Texas rules and say, "This is how we want you 21 to do our deposition in our lawsuit from 22 Texas."

23 MR. HAMILTON: I guess it
24 doesn't hurt to leave it in there. I'm not 25 not sure that another state will recognize it,

1 but it's worth a try anyway. They tell me 2 that there's a law that prohibits them from 3 doing that in California.

4 MR. LOW: But then you would 5 come back to this court and file a motion that 6 our procedures be followed and a copy could be 7 substituted, so you have to come back to this 8 court for help. Let him keep his original and 9 don't pay his bill.

10 MR. MARKS: Yeah. Tell him our 11 procedure doesn't allow us to pay the bill 12 unless we get the original deposition.

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Our concept,
14 though, is that before a copy can be used it 15 has to have the court reporter's certificate 16 on it. That's what the hang-up is. They've 17 got copies, but they don't have a copy with 18 the court reporter's certificate on it. And I
19 suppose some judge could cut you some slack, 20 but the rule is pretty plain on that in 205.

21 MR. SALES: It seems that 22 part (e) here takes care of that anyway.

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Where is 24 that? Oh, (e) on 188.

25 MR. JACKSON: That's for 1 letters rogatory and letters of request.

2 CHAIRMAN SOULES: All right.

3 What else, Carl?

4 MR. HAMILTON: That's all I 5 have.

6 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay.

7 Anything else's on 188? The committee will 8 continue to write and work on that for us.
9 David, it's in your custody, this assignment.

10 Let's go back to Alex with venue. Are 11 you ready?

12 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: I'm ready, 13 but I'm not sure where we are.

14 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay.
15 Neither am I. Let me see.

16 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Did we 17 finish with Rule 86?

19 that? I'm trying to get to that. Here we go.

20 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: As I
21 heard, Rule 86 got sent back to the 22 committee. Is that correct?

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Is that what 24 we did?

25 MR. McMains: Well, we quit

1 basically after you left.

2 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: Well,
3 we decided to try to fix the Paragraph 10
4 problem by addressing the more general problem 5 of whether the judge can reserve ruling on the 6 motion to transfer venue and rule on other 7 things first, and it wouldn't be a waiver to 8 do other things first.

9 MR. McMAINS: Yeah. We kind of 10 jumped past this problem, is what we did.

11 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Then we'll 12 just continue to address it after a redraft.
13 Do we want to take a sense of the Committee on 14 how you want to deal with fraudulent --

15 MR. McMAINS: What did we vote
16 on doing, Luke?

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. As 18 sort of a larger way to accommodate a number 19 of the things that we've been talking about, 20 Elaine, in your absence, and of course, 21 obviously you all have to work together on 22 this, is going to take on the work of the 23 committee. There was no dissent from writing 24 something that does -- that the court on its 25 own motion or on motion of either party can

1 delay ruling on a motion to transfer venue, 2 and that delay will not cause any waiver of 3 the movant's motion if the movant thereafter
4 participates in any proceedings in the case.
5 This will allow the trial judge in a more
6 complicated situation, which is pretty much
7 what we were talking about, several different 8 variations of complications, to make a
9 decision to put the hearing on the motion down 10 the line and rule on a motion for summary 11 judgment or things that might come up that 12 would demonstrate fraudulent joinders.

13 Now, Paul Gold asked that additional 14 writing be appended to that, which Elaine and 15 you will do, that there will be a cutoff on 16 amending the motion as a subpoint, but that is 17 the motion, no matter what happens after that, 18 so that it's not ever changing and evolving.
19 Now, how the committee will ultimately respond
20 to that particular part of it, I don't know, 21 but we wanted to look at it.

22 And then, let's see, there was another 23 piece of it. Oh, that since the compulsion to 24 hear today is driven by waiver if you don't 25 here it first, there's really no rule that

1 says when it is to be heard, so there would be 2 a time for the hearing on the motion to 3 transfer venue set in the rule or something to 4 make that happen, so that unless it's extended 5 by order of the court it would be heard still 6 up towards the front of the case. Now, that 7 would hopefully create an environment in which 8 these extraordinary circumstances could be 9 perceived and dealt with by the parties and 10 the judge on an ad hoc basis in a particular 11 case.

12 And when we finish that, I think the only 13 piece of that to which there was any perhaps 14 dissent was a piece that Paul had in there
15 about closing the motion at some point. So 16 that's going to obviously be written for us to 17 look at, and then we stopped. And that's the 18 only thing we did really after you left here.

19 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Well,
20 maybe what we should do is take all this back 21 to the committee and consider this Section 10 22 together with that.

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Speak up.

24 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Maybe we 25 should take all of this back to the

1 subcommittee and reconsider Section 10 with 2 that and then bring that back to the Committee
3 in May. Then we could move on to Rule 257
4 right now.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: All right.
6 Is that acceptable to everyone? No dissent.

7 Buddy, did you want to say something?
8 Buddy Low.

9 MR. LOW: Can I make one
10 suggestion? You mentioned without waiver by 11 participating in any proceeding, but I think 12 you probably need to add "seeking or obtaining 13 relief," because that's the same thing they 14 really -- or affirmative relief is the thing 15 that they really worry about, and they say,
16 well, "participating" may be sitting in on a 17 deposition. I think you might consider that 18 included.

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Did you get 20 that, Alex? Participating in any proceeding
21 or seeking or obtaining or resisting 22 affirmative relief, something like that. It's 23 going to take a little bit of research to pick 24 up the waiver cases where if you do this and 25 you're out, to be sure that whatever the

1 courts say throw you out is no longer a basis
2 for waiver of the motion. Okay. Bill
3 Dorsaneo.

4 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: I just 5 have one question, and I should have been 6 involved in this conference yesterday, but in 7 this March 6, '97, draft on the last page of 8 this proposed Paragraph 11, why does it say in 9 the draft, "The motion need not specifically 10 deny pleaded venue facts"? I can see why you 11 wouldn't need to seek transfer to another 12 specified county of proper venue, but why 13 wouldn't you in this motion deny venue facts 14 too?

15 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: This was 16 the language that was approved from January.
17 And the reason it's in there is because it was 18 all part of the discussion that a defendant 19 who is objecting to joinder of a party should 20 not have to specifically deny anything and 21 should not have to ask that a case be 22 transferred anywhere. They should just be 23 able to go in and say, "You're not a plaintiff 24 who can join in this case."

25 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Well, I'd

1 have to go back and read that transcript. But 2 does that make sense in the context of an 3 additional plaintiff who is asserting not that 4 they need to be there because it's essential
5 to their rights, but that they can be there 6 because venue is proper?

7 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: I'm not 8 sure it does make sense. I think you're 9 right. But I guess this is included in there 10 because of subcommittee discussions and 11 discussions here, so it just kind of evolved.
12 But I think it's a good idea to reconsider it.

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I had another
14 question about Paragraph 11 that starts off
15 "If a plaintiff." Does "plaintiff"
16 include cross-plaintiffs -- well, not 17 cross-plaintiffs, I guess -- well, maybe 18 cross-plaintiffs. Cross-plaintiffs and 19 third-party plaintiffs?

20 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: What's a 21 third-party plaintiff?

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: A defendant
23 who tries to bring in a third party.

24 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Okay.
25 Well, then the defendant is saying --

1 CHAIRMAN SOULES: The
2 third-party plaintiff -- the third-party
3 defendant wants to challenge venue.

4 MR. McMAINS: The statute --

5 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: That would 6 be under statutory venue.

7 PROFESSOR CARLSON: Doesn't the 8 statute say venue in the main suit controls?

9 MR. McMAINS: They have a right
10 to sue them if they're in there under this 11 venue statute.

12 CHAIRMAN SOULES: If the claims
13 are joinable, right?

14 MR. MARKS: Do you have a copy 15 of the code?

16 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: The 17 statute has some other weird stuff in that new 18 amendment about the subject matter of the 19 action. I don't understand what the 20 legislature thought the rules provide.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: It basically
22 sets, I think, the same standard as for a 23 cross-action under the Rules of Civil 24 Procedure.

25 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: 15.062

1 says venue of the main action shall establish 2 venue of a counterclaim, cross-claim or 3 third-party claim properly joined under the 4 Texas Rules of Civil Procedure and any 5 applicable statute.

6 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: But then 7 look at (b).

8 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: If an 9 original defendant properly joins a third-
10 party defendant, venue shall be proper for a 11 claim arising out of the same transaction, 12 occurrence or series of transactions or 13 occurrences by the plaintiff against the 14 third-party defendant if the claim arises out 15 of the subject matter of the plaintiff's claim 16 against the original defendant.

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: It's actually
18 the cross-action standard. It's the old rule 19 of civil procedure cross-action standard.

20 MR. McMains: If it's 21 appropriate to bring them in in a cross-action 22 or to bring the claim in a cross-action, then 23 they've got venue in the main action.

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay.

25 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: It's the 1 same as multiple defendants.

2 MR. McMAINS: Well, that's so
3 there are no venue issues on the new PRP
4 procedure, the potentially responsible 5 parties.

6 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Let me see if 7 this works, and this is a real-live case:
8 We've got plaintiffs who have sued two 9 defendants. One of the defendants has filed a 10 cross-action, we say unrelated to plaintiff's 11 claim, and we filed a motion to transfer 12 venue, sever and transfer venue, because if it 13 doesn't belong in the case, we're entitled to 14 transfer venue. So as a co-defendant, we are 15 moving to transfer venue of a co-defendant's 16 cross-action. Is that accommodated by the 17 words in this Paragraph 11?

18 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: This would 19 not be -- that situation would not come under 20 Paragraph 11.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I don't know
22 if we've got a rule to fix it, which brings up 23 another really interesting point, and that is, 24 how do we get transferred before we get 25 severed? If we ask for severance first, have

1 we asked for affirmative relief and waived
2 venue? No answer, unless this other thing we 3 talked about makes it through the wickets.

4 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Are you
5 saying if you have a motion to transfer 6 alleging that it's not properly joined?

7 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Right.

8 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: It's not 9 addressed under the current rules, but people
10 deal with it. I think it's best not to deal 11 with it specifically under these rules.

12 CHAIRMAN SOULES: It's pretty 13 painful dealing with it without any rules, but 14 okay, maybe it's too complicated.

15 Okay. Anything else on 86? If a party 16 is entitled to a transfer -- well, that's 17 transfer of venue of a claim that's in a case, 18 which is another problem.

19 MR. McMains: Luke, did we ever
20 resolve -- because I think we stopped talking 21 about it. We went to this discussion about 22 the waiver when we were in the issue of 23 whether or not there should be any language in 24 there prohibiting rehearing. And then we 25 talked about broadening the ability to

1 postpone and not waive and whatever, but it
2 sounded like kind of as a way back-door not 3 having to permit rehearings. But I'm not 4 sure, did we ever really determine if we want 5 to keep what we had more or less on the no
6 motions for rehearing? Do we want to -- I
7 mean, since we're going to have to redraft it, 8 or are we going just abandoning changing that 9 to accommodate Judge Brister's concern and 10 Sarah Duncan's concerns?

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: We would have 12 to write the law that there either is or there 13 is not a right to rehearing, because that's 14 not decided and it's not in the rule. If 15 Paul's ideas is consummated, there would be a 16 time when the motion closed, which would 17 suggest that no motion after that or amended 18 motion could be filed, no further motion could 19 be filed.

20 MR. McMains: There's no
21 further provision in our current rules for 22 amending a motion to transfer. I mean, if you 23 do it wrong, you do it wrong, and usually you 24 lose. So you don't get a chance to fix those 25 anyway.

1 CHAIRMAN SOULES: And I'm not 2 resistant to the idea. I'm just saying if 3 we're going to decide rehearing or no
4 rehearing, we're writing on a clean slate.

5 MR. McMAINS: But our current 6 rule says what it says.

7 CHAIRMAN SOULES: It says no
8 further motion.

9 MR. McMAINS: And I'm agreeing
10 with you. I'm not disagreeing with that. The 11 question is, was it your sense that we were 12 leaving that in this rule? That's what I was 13 trying to figure out.

14 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I thought so,
15 particularly if Paul's idea carries. If 16 Paul's idea carries, then there would be a 17 motion, a closed motion at some point, and 18 there would be no further motion.

19 Am I missing your point? Ask your 20 question again.

21 MR. McMAINS: The only thing
22 I'm getting at is, I don't think as a
23 Committee we ever voted one way or the other 24 on the issue of do we want to say that the 25 trial -- I mean, is there anything we want to 1 do to fix this rule to either intimate to the 2 judge that he has the power to do something,

3 if he's made a mistake, to change his mind?

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: To rehear?

5 MR. McMAINS: On rehearing. Or 6 do we take the position that that's something 7 the court is going to have to decide based on 8 the current language, which we're not going to 9 change to accommodate anybody?

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I think we 11 ought to say to make it clear or to clarify
12 it, I don't know if it would make it clear,
13 what is it, current 86 says no motion -- I 14 tried to mark it. Let me see. No further 15 motions to transfer shall be considered, but 16 this shall not preclude rehearing of the 17 original motion, or something to that effect.

18 MR. McMAINS: Well, again, the 19 problem we have is, which we didn't discuss, 20 were only just barely getting into, was 21 because of the change in the statute we now 22 have -- there now are abilities of later added
23 parties to file motions that was very clear 24 that they didn't have the right to file under 25 the old statute. I mean, the old statute was

1 intended to basically say you decided this 2 early in the case and you move on. The new 3 statute clearly says that if you're a newly 4 added party you can file a motion, 5 particularly on the inconvenience grounds, and 6 make the challenge.

7 What we've done is limited the ability to 8 file that motion to grounds that have not been 9 asserted before, but I don't think there's any 10 way that you can't at least allow that further 11 consideration given the statute, do you?
12 Isn't that right?

13 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: That's the 14 way I thought about it.

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: The new 16 defendant can't raise grounds previously 17 asserted by another defendant; is that what 18 this says?

19 MR. McMains: That's what it 20 currently says.

21 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Another
22 way is you could just -- Sarah Duncan and I
23 talked about it, that perhaps a defendant
24 could argue if that defendant waived my right 25 to transfer on grounds that that defendant has

1 asserted in a previous motion, the reason they 2 waived it, they got that motion overruled, is 3 because they're incompetent, and so I have a 4 right to assert any grounds that I want to 5 assert in a later motion. And so we have -- 6 Sarah and I throw our hands up and just allow 7 anything alternative, which is on Page 4 of 8 the March 4th draft.

9 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That makes 10 more sense to me. I mean, this is a plaintiff 11 adding somebody. If the plaintiff adds
12 somebody that's got the right program --

13 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: What this 14 one does on Page 4 --

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: -- to defeat
16 venue, they're in trouble.

17 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: -- on 18 Page 4, it says the court may consider any 19 timely motion filed after ruling on the prior 20 motion, and may reconsider any previously 21 overruled motion.

22 MR. McMains: That's too broad.

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I think it
24 ought to be by a new party.

25 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Well, it

1 was intended to be limited. It was intended 2 to mean that when a new party comes in, they 3 can file any motion to transfer before they 4 answer on any grounds that they want to and 5 then get the court to consider it. And the 6 court can reconsider any previously timely 7 filed motion.

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: But the old
9 parties can't file a new motion.

10 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: The old
11 parties cannot file a new motion.

12 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That sounds
13 smart to me. I don't know how you -- let's 14 debate it.

15 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: And this 16 on Page 4, I kind of -- I wrote this very 17 quickly after Sarah and I said, hey, maybe 18 we'll just throw it all out, and I did not 19 spend much time on this. So if this is where 20 we want to go with it, it needs some more 21 careful drafting.

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, that 23 subsequent situation could make it where the 24 judge really feels like the judge has to 25 transfer the case, and then you sit there and

1 try a case? That seems to me to answer
2 several of the concerns I heard around the 3 table, but let's get everybody involved here.

4 Does anybody object to that scheme, then,
5 where plaintiff adds a new defendant; the new 6 defendant can raise any challenge to venue 7 that the new defendant wants to raise; the 8 judge hears that; that also triggers the 9 opportunity for the judge to reconsider -- if 10 the judge doesn't already have the power -- to 11 reconsider motions, but the parties that have 12 already had their shot at venue can't take a 13 new shot themselves? Is anything wrong with 14 that? Does anybody see anything wrong with 15 that? Rusty.

16 MR. McMains: Wait a minute, 17 when you say "reconsider," that's 18 inconsistent, I thought, with the idea you
19 said that the party, if they tried their venue
20 issue, lost, a new party comes in and all of a 21 sudden that reinvigorates that motion? So you 22 kind of like never have any reason to hear a 23 motion to transfer until you finally got 24 through adding everybody, because it just 25 reinvigorates the issue and carries it along

1 with the case.

2 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, that
3 gets back to -- here are my differences: You
4 don't believe that the trial judge can rehear 5 an original motion for transfer that's been 6 overruled. I think the judge can already in 7 these rules.

8 MR. McMANS: I'm not saying it
9 can't rehear it. Again, we were talking 10 about --

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Rehear or 12 reconsider.

13 MR. McMANS: We're not 14 supposed to be filing motions for that 15 purpose. I don't think we have any 16 disagreement on that.

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, yes,
18 that's what I'm saying, that if the judge can 19 reconsider, it's within his plenary power to 20 go back and say, "Now that I've seen your 21 motion, I think that motion is probably good 22 too, so I'll go with it, even though I
23 overruled that motion originally, because I'm 24 within my plenary power and the Supreme Court 25 has got a case that says I can do it at least

1 in some circumstances."

2 MR. SALES: You would almost 3 have to have that power, because then you'd 4 have the anomalous situation where some 5 defendants are out and some are in on the same
6 ground. I mean, I don't think you want to do
7 that and split a case.

8 MR. McMAINS: You can do that 9 under the current rules. The judge has the 10 power to send the case anywhere he wants to.

11 If I file a lawsuit against a defendant 12 that I've had in there for a year and we've 13 been doing everything and then that defendant 14 adds another defendant on a cross-action 15 claiming that he's the one really responsible, 16 and you do that under Chapter 33 and the tort 17 reform garbage on PRPs, and then I have so 18 much time regardless of the statute of 19 limitations once they're added, the statute of 20 limitations is basically told for me, and I 21 can bring those parties into that lawsuit, and 22 now they're saying, "Oh, okay. Well, we're 23 going to file a motion to transfer and we're 24 going to get the transfer." Okay. So even 25 though this party never filed a motion in the 1 first place, that's what this procedure would 2 allow you to do, and that's silly.

3 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's right.

4 MR. McMAINS: I mean, if I'm a
5 plaintiff, I didn't want this other party in 6 there in the first place. It's the 7 legislature that had them in there, and now
8 that person is going to be able to screw up 9 the venue as to everybody? We don't have to, 10 because the judge can send that person away to 11 another county and talk to the first ones and 12 say, "We'll go ahead and try that lawsuit 13 first."

14 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Anyone else?
15 Mark Sales.

16 MR. SALES: I was just going to 17 add, that's for the third-party situation.
18 What about when you join another defendant, 19 though, the plaintiff?

20 MR. McMAINS: That's not just a
21 third party, because when they bring somebody
22 in, that activates my right to sue them. I 23 have a very short period of time in which to 24 sue them once they appear, even though I 25 didn't sue them initially. And if that

1 defendant is going to take the position
2 they're the one that's responsible, then I
3 have to sue them pretty quickly assuming that 4 they do that late in the game when limitations
5 is otherwise run or is about to run.

6 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: So Rusty,
7 aren't you saying in that situation that new 8 defendant is going to argue convenience and 9 justice transfer, right, because there aren't 10 any --

11 MR. McMAINS: No, I'm saying
12 that --

13 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Because 14 venue is proper as to that defendant under the 15 statute.

16 MR. McMAINS: That's right.
17 That's what I believe, except --

18 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: So the 19 only argument they would have for transfer is 20 convenience and justice.

21 MR. McMAINS: Not under yours.
22 Suppose they want to take the position that 23 the original venue was not good even though it 24 was not challenged. Okay. Under the 25 non-waiver provisions, then the party that's

1 brought in says, "Wait a minute, even though
2 he didn't ever challenge venue, didn't ever
3 file a motion to transfer, I want to contest
4 venue because this guy" --

5 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Well, you
6 lost that in the legislature. There's nothing 7 we can do about that now.

8 MR. McMains: I didn't lose
9 anything. I don't know what you're talking
10 about.

11 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Well, the 12 legislature has said that that new defendant 13 has a right to bring a venue challenge.

14 MR. McMains: Correct, as to 15 him. The legislature did not say that it 16 affects the other parties.

17 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Okay.

18 MR. McMains: That's what 19 you're talking about. The legislature does 20 not say that it affects the party who didn't 21 make the motion. It the judge has always had 22 the power to sever. Nobody is suggesting that 23 you're waiving their rights, you know, but 24 that doesn't mean to say that it reactivates a 25 defendant who did waive his right.

1 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: So I guess
2 what we're saying is that we want to give the 3 power to the judge to transfer the entire 4 case, and you're saying the judge should not 5 have that power? Is that right?

6 MR. McMAINS: I guess, in the 7 final analysis. I don't know.

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, that's 9 an ineffective --

10 MR. MARKS: I got lost here
11 someplace. Let's say I bring in a third-party 12 defendant. That gives you the right as a 13 plaintiff to sue that person directly. Now, 14 that third-party defendant does not have the 15 right to challenge the venue?

16 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: They do.

17 MR. MARKS: They do have the 18 right?

19 MR. McMAINS: Yeah, they do
20 have the right. The question is whether or 21 not you should have the right.

23 third-party defendant files a motion to 24 transfer venue and there has never been a 25 motion to transfer venue in that case.

1 MR. McMains: Right.

2 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Well, no,
3 under the rule we're talking about, there 4 would have have been a previous motion to 5 transfer because you're reconsidering it.

6 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Not 7 necessarily. You would have to have one to 8 reconsider it, but if you don't have one,
9 you've still got a motion, the new party's 10 motion.

11 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: You still 12 have a motion to transfer. The issue Rusty 13 is --

14 MR. McMains: That's actually a 15 different or an additional issue, whether or 16 not --

17 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: The point
18 that Rusty is raising is when this third-party 19 defendant files a motion to transfer venue and 20 the judge grants it, should the judge transfer 21 the whole case or only the case as to this 22 third-party defendant that has the successful 23 motion. I would think that we would want to 24 encourage the whole case to be transferred. I 25 can understand why Rusty doesn't want the

1 whole case transferred, but --

2 MR. McMAINS: Well, it's not an 3 issue of what I want or don't want. It's an 4 issue of the statute says that a party cannot 5 waive for any other party. It doesn't say 6 that it reactivates; that it basically
7 unwaives through another party. That's a much 8 broader interpretation of what the statutory 9 language is to suggest that because we are 10 giving rights to somebody that's brought in, 11 new certain rights that he never asserted,
12 that maybe haven't been asserted by anybody 13 before, and say, "I don't lose because that 14 person has lost," to protect his rights, 15 that's fine. That's what the statute says.
16 There's nothing, however, in the statute that 17 then says that not only that, you have 18 resurrected his otherwise waived rights.

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's not in 20 the statute, so that's new policy, if it's 21 made, but it's not in conflict with the policy
22 that's already been made. Buddy Low.

23 MR. LOW: Luke, it looks like 24 to me that, first of all, we can't do anything 25 that would restrict the judge's power to

1 change his ruling, to just rehear something on 2 his own. The only thing I know he can't do is 3 he can't withdraw the granting of a summary
4 motion he granted in the middle of trial. But 5 other than that, he can change his judgment
6 within his plenary power. So really it looks 7 like all we're looking at is what motions a 8 person should file and when and what is the 9 effect of not filing them. Is that -- am I 10 wrong?

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Essentially I
12 think that's right.

13 MR. LOW: I understand where 14 we're going then.

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: And I guess
16 there are as many angles to this as somebody 17 can consider, because you're talking about 18 multiple parties, and anytime you talk about 19 multiple parties, you've got all these 20 permutations and combinations that people an 21 come up with. You can write a simple rule, or 22 you can write one that tries to deal with all 23 these permutations and combinations, or we 24 could have no rule and just try to somehow get 25 it ironed out.

1 What we were talking about, I'm not
2 necessarily espousing it, and I sort of said I 3 thought it was fine, but it doesn't make any 4 difference what I think. What we were talking 5 about, and maybe it's a way to get the 6 discussion going, if we want to talk about 7 this at all, is the only reason I'm 8 reiterating it, is that when a new party is 9 added, should that party be permitted to raise 10 every venue challenge that that party could 11 have raised if it had been the original 12 defendant. And that's A. B, should the 13 judge, if that sort of a motion is filed, be 14 permitted to rehear or reconsider a previously 15 filed motion of another defendant that's been 16 overruled? And then the other one is should 17 the judge be able to transfer the case as to 18 the original defendant as well as the newly 19 added defendant when only the newly added 20 defendant challenges venue and the original 21 defendant never did?

22 Now, I think that summarizes the 23 circumstances that we've come up with so far.
24 Does anybody want to talk about that?

25 MR. SALES: Isn't A that they

1 have an absolute right under the statute now,
2 though? I mean, that's not anything we can 3 change, right?

4 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Well, it
5 depends on how you read the statute. I'm not 6 reading it the way you all are reading it, 7 period.

8 MR. SALES: Well, if you make 9 the assumption that they have an absolute 10 right to raise any ground if they're brought 11 into the suit, then you're going to end up 12 with an anomalous result that maybe the judge 13 is going to throw that one out on venue on the 14 very same issues that he kept the first one in 15 on. I don't think you want that result.

16 The more difficult one is where the guy 17 never raised it to begin with, kind of like 18 waived it almost. I think that's a trickier 19 question.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I don't think
21 it's unprecedented in the case law to have a 22 judge caught in a situation where he's got 23 venue as to one defendant but he's got to 24 transfer it as to another, but it's exactly 25 the same event because one party took

1 advantage of their procedural rights and 2 another party filed to take advantage of their 3 procedural rights.

4 MR. SALES: It's just a waiver.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: It has 6 happened. It's kind of silly, but it has 7 happened. And this is one way to, I guess, 8 address that, and maybe there's a way to keep 9 that from happening again, unless the judge 10 wants to keep the first case.

11 MR. SALES: If the guy waived
12 it, I mean, it's sort of like a waiver
13 argument. If he never raised it, didn't 14 bother to raise it and the time period is 15 gone, you know, I can see that. I mean,
16 that's a legitimate waiver. You know, you 17 assume he knew what you were doing, but that 18 shouldn't necessarily preclude the other guy 19 who has an absolute right under the statute to 20 challenge it.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, the 22 plaintiff has got a choice. The plaintiff 23 doesn't have to add that new defendant in this 24 case. The plaintiff could sue that same 25 second defendant in the same county as the

1 first case, see how the venue motion goes, and 2 then move to consolidate.

3 Now, Rusty did put an angle on his 4 example there which would not permit that,
5 because he had a situation where there was a 6 third-party action that revised the statute.
7 So his only choice would be to bring that 8 claim in the original action, but he hasn't 9 done it yet. Take your chances if he does it
10 now.

11 MR. LOW: But Luke, wouldn't it
12 depend on who -- in other words, the party -- 13 if a defendant brings somebody in and does not 14 file a motion, a venue motion, then I can see 15 where they shouldn't be allowed to rely on 16 somebody else's motion or after that point 17 file a motion on their own.

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: This says the 19 judge --

20 MR. LOW: I know. Well, it's 21 hard to tell the judge what he can't do. I've 22 discovered that long ago and quit doing it.
23 And so then the next question is Rusty's
24 question, where I see also a difference there, 25 where they bring him in, and then Rusty has to

1 bring them, you know, in, and then that should 2 renew it if they are the initiating party.
3 But I think if the plaintiff is the initiating 4 party in bringing a new person in, then it
5 ought to be fair game. He can consider it.
6 So I considered two situations one way, and 7 when the plaintiff takes the action on his 8 own, then I think everybody in there ought to 9 have a right to challenge venue.

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, every 11 one of these situations has to do with the 12 plaintiff making a claim against a party that 13 had not yet been sued by the plaintiff.

14 MR. LOW: No. But he might do 15 it merely to be the first one, or he may be 16 the second one where a co-defendant brought 17 them in. So he's not the initiating party to 18 get that person before the court. If he's the 19 initiating person to get that person before 20 the court, then it ought to be fair game. He 21 ought to consider that, and everybody else can 22 come back in and all the dogs fight in one 23 pack.

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Could I get 25 some help on this one, which has come up a

1 couple of times as well: If the original
2 defendant third-parties a person responsible, 3 is the plaintiff compelled to bring their 4 action against that third party in that 5 action, or can they sue that third party --

6 MR. McMAINS: Well, again, this 7 all deals with limitations.

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Forget
9 limitations. Let's leave that on the side.

10 MR. McMAINS: Well, under the 11 statute, if the plaintiff wants to sue them, 12 they're supposed to sue them there. Now, if 13 they're barred from suing them because of 14 limitations but they're brought in within a 15 period of limitations by the defendant, you've 16 got so much time in which you can sue them
17 anyway, even though you could not otherwise 18 bring the action anywhere else. That's the 19 way the statute is talking. It doesn't 20 actually say, "You can't file suit elsewhere 21 against these people," but implicitly the 22 notion is, well, you didn't bring them in or 23 weren't going to bring them in or weren't 24 going to sue them at all. It's the defendant 25 who sued them. And if they're going to sue

1 them, then they have to be somebody who 2 qualifies as a potentially responsible party, 3 and that means they have to sue them within 4 limitations.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: My question,
6 though, is if plaintiff sues defendant,
7 defendant joins a PRP, must the plaintiff --
8 is the plaintiff precluded from ever suing PRP
9 unless the defendant sues PRP in that original 10 action?

11 MR. McMAINS: The statute says
12 that. But I think clearly, if you were to go
13 to trial in that situation, I don't -- I 14 think, yes, you're barred by rule, you know.
15 It's res judicata. You're estopped by 16 rule. It's a claim you could have asserted 17 because it's in the case.

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, you can 19 assert a cross-action too, but you're not 20 required to under Supreme Court authority.

21 MR. McMAINS: Yeah. But the 22 difference is that a claim in a PRP situation 23 is a claim that they're liable to the 24 plaintiff. They're making that claim. That 25 defendant is making that claim, and that is

1 going to be adjudicated in that lawsuit.

2 CHAIRMAN SOULES: You're 3 probably right.

4 MR. McMAINS: I don't think
5 there is any right to sue them somewhere else 6 just because they did that, would be my guess.

7 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay.
8 Does -- Bill says he hopes you're wrong, just 9 so the record is at least confused or unclear 10 on exactly what the consequence of that might 11 be. Does anybody have any suggestions?
12 Should we just drop it? Go forward with it?
13 What do you want to do, Alex?

14 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Can I ask
15 Bill to say what he thinks the statute says?
16 I get the impression that Bill thinks we're 17 misinterpreting the statute and maybe we 18 should go in another direction.

19 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Well, I
20 think in context the statute was meant to deal 21 with the --

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: What
23 provision of the statute is it?

24 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: 15.0641.

25 MR. HAMILTON: And 15.062.

1 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: It was 2 meant to deal with the waiver situation, but 3 it says "including waiver."

4 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: It was 5 meant to deal with former -- when it was 6 conceptualized, no doubt it was meant to deal 7 with former 15.061, which provided, you know, 8 if the court has venue, then. But the first 9 thing that happened in this change is that for 10 multiple defendants, plaintiff has to 11 establish proper venue against the defendant, 12 so that's kind of one fix to this former 13 15.061 problem. And this separate 15.0641
14 thing looks to me like it ends up being, you 15 know, just overkill because of what's already 16 provided in the multiple-defendants section.

17 But where I think the interpretive
18 problem that I was commenting on is in the 19 beginning part, in a suit in which two or more 20 defendants are joined. And I think that's 21 language which is quite possible to mean 22 originally joined rather than subsequent 23 joinder.

24 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Even if a 25 plaintiff adds --

1 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Well, I
2 think that it's not at least clear that it
3 means throughout the lawsuit plaintiff adding 4 additional people, and I would certainly be 5 willing to argue, you know, based upon an 6 interpretation of similar language in the 7 statutes, for example, involving aggregation
8 of amounts in controversy, which begins
9 essentially the same way, that this is talking 10 about two or more defendants joined in the 11 original pleadings, you know, rather than even 12 addressing this subsequent matter.

13 MR. McMAINS: What does the 14 rest of the sentence say? When two or more 15 defendants are joined, what?

16 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: "In a suit 17 in which two or more defendants are joined, 18 any action or omission by one defendant in 19 relation to venue, including a waiver of venue 20 by one defendant, does not operate to impair 21 or diminish the right of any other defendant 22 to properly challenge venue."

23 Now, to me the straightforward thing that 24 it was directed toward was the original
25 lawsuit issue where you would sue one friendly

1 defendant and one unfriendly defendant and one
2 of them would waive venue rights. Then you
3 say to the other one, "Your motion to transfer 4 is no good because the court has venue."

5 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: But Bill,
6 you would have the same problem as the Taco
7 Bell case when they waited to join Taco Bell 8 until after venue was determined.

10 might cover, you know, multiple -- it might 11 cover the subsequently joined thing. I just 12 don't necessarily think that it does.

13 MR. HAMILTON: Well, I think
14 that's what it was for, to keep from joining a 15 known defendant that can be sued in that 16 county which is not the real target defendant, 17 have the venue established, and then later 18 join the real defendant which otherwise could 19 not have been sued in the county.

20 MR. McMAINS: If you're 21 suing -- if you -- the problem is that under 22 the statute even now, if you properly sue that 23 defendant, even though he may not be your 24 principal target, he may only have $10,000
25 worth of insurance in a million-dollar case,

1 but you may then sue all the other defendants 2 and you have venue as to all of them. And the 3 question is, why should you have to relitigate 4 that issue later on when the target is added, 5 if that's what happens later on? You know, if 6 that happens to be done in that sequence or 7 whatever, why should you be entitled to redo 8 that issue?

9 MR. HAMILTON: Well, that later
10 added defendant may want to challenge venue on 11 various grounds, inconvenience, unfairness.

12 MR. McMAINS: I'm not 13 disagreeing that inconvenience or can't get a 14 fair trial are issues that are different.

15 MR. HAMILTON: Well, why must 16 it be a mandatory venue situation?

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: A plaintiff's 18 lawyer who really has a products case tells 19 his friendly San Antonio doctor, "I'm going to 20 sue you in Eagle Pass for this event." Then 21 I'm going to add the products manufacturer -- 22 you're going to waive venue. Then I'm going 23 to add the products manufacturer, and don't 24 worry, someday, somewhere down the line I'm 25 cutting you loose, but that's the deal. I'll

1 cut you loose, but you don't challenge venue.

2 Well, it seems to me like 15.0641 takes 3 care of that products manufacturer. That 4 products manufacturer has a right to challenge 5 venue in Eagle Pass, if they have a basis to 6 challenge venue in Eagle Pass.

7 MR. McMAINS: But the basis of 8 it is that the doctor wasn't properly joined 9 in the first place.

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Wasn't 11 properly joined in the first place. Well, if 12 the doctor was properly joined in the first 13 place, we don't have venue problems. It's 14 over.

15 MR. McMAINS: And that's what 16 I'm getting at, is that the fix that you
17 originally endorsed reinvigorates the issues 18 that are in terms of the propriety of that 19 doctor in the first place. I mean, if you sue 20 him in San Antonio and that's where he lives 21 and he's properly joined, that ought to be the 22 end of it. You ought not to have to keep 23 raising this issue regardless of who keeps 24 being added.

25 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, let me

1 step through it. The judge revisits venue as 2 to the doctor, and the doctor is still in 3 San Antonio and the surgery still occurred in 4 San Antonio, and this new person had an 5 absolute right to be elsewhere except for the 6 fact that the doctor is in San Antonio and 7 he's a proper defendant in a proper venue, so 8 it doesn't take much to get rid of that 9 problem.

10 MR. McMAINS: Well, it does if 11 in fact -- you know, it can on the second end 12 of the spectrum if in fact the target 13 defendant or products defendant comes in and 14 says, "I want to move for inconvenience 15 purposes," and if that activates the trial 16 judge's ability to send it to a place that -- 17 it was properly brought in the first place, 18 and he just says, "Well, it's inconvenient to 19 that defendant, so I'm going to send everybody
20 over to East Texas."

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, can't 22 the judge do that under these rules right 23 now? Plaintiff adds a new party. It's 24 inconvenient to that party. It's clear that 25 party is the big party. The judge looks, and 1 it's inconvenient.

2 MR. McMANS: I don't think the 3 statute says that.

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: The first
5 joined defendant is not stuck on inconvenience 6 by not raising it early; isn't that right?
7 The inconvenience piece of venue change can be 8 raised at any time.

9 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: No. It
10 has to be raised in due order.

11 MR. McMANS: Yeah. That's not 12 right.

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I'm thinking
14 about prejudice.

15 MR. McMANS: Yes. And that's 16 different. 257 is different.

17 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: It may be 18 that the statute doesn't compel the judge to 19 transfer the whole case, but the judge can 20 sever it and transfer part of it. But I think 21 the judge would also have the right to 22 transfer the whole case if the judge wanted to 23 transfer the whole case.

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Where is 25 that? That's another thing I've been trying

1 to come through here. In 15.063 it talks
2 about "transferring the action," and I don't 3 know what an "action" is, unless it could be 4 the case. It could be a claim. Can the judge
5 split parties up under 15.063 when one party
6 raises a valid motion to transfer issue 7 timely? Does anybody know the answer to that?

9 statute is --

10 MR. McMANS: Well, clearly
11 they can -- you know, the judge can transfer 12 as to some and not others, because that's 13 actually what a lot of the intervention/
14 joinder stuff is all about.

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Certainly by 16 way of intervention you are right. There's no 17 doubt about it.

18 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: The former 19 law on this subject, which was not codified in 20 1983, was that the court would look at the 21 action in a multiple-defendant case, let's 22 say, typically where one defendant had not 23 made a plea of privilege and another defendant 24 did make a plea of privilege, let's say, under 25 the old general rule, and decide whether the

1 action was a joint action under a series of 2 venue cases that had kind of an odd formula,
3 whether the action was severable for venue 4 purposes under this odd formula, and it would 5 transfer the whole case if it was a venue-
6 joint action type of case. And if it was a 7 venue-severable type of case, then it would 8 split it up.

9 Now, those cases don't make any sense to 10 a modern proceduralist because what they say 11 doesn't make sense in English. More recent 12 cases trying to make sense of that would say, 13 well, if the claims are interwoven in a really 14 complicated sense, then the court could 15 transfer the whole action rather than split it 16 up.

17 15.061 had a provision at its end that 18 dealt with this a little bit, and it's 19 otherwise, I don't think, dealt with in here.
20 And it's still like -- well, read those old 21 cases and see what you think.

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: So under 23 15.0641, if Defendant A waives venue, that 24 doesn't waive it for Defendant B, new 25 Defendant B or any Defendant B. And if

1 Defendant B challenges venue and if 15.063
2 says the action goes, that means that 3 Defendant 1, who did nothing to protect his 4 venue rights, goes with Defendant B to the new 5 venue.

6 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: But 7 there's a lot of reason not to believe much of 8 what 15.063 says. It's probably the worst
9 piece in the whole venue legislation.

10 PROFESSOR CARLSON: Luke, I
11 really think the cases -- and I don't know,
12 Bill, if you agree -- leave the discretion
13 with the trial court in a severance issue. I 14 don't think a transfer of the entire case is 15 compelled, although I think that's the norm.

16 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Part of 17 the purpose of the 1982 venue was to keep the 18 whole lawsuit together, if possible, right?

19 PROFESSOR CARLSON: Once upon a
20 time.

21 MR. McMANS: Yes. But part of 22 the purpose of the tort reform statute was to 23 split the damn thing up.

24 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: The part 25 that kept it together was 15.061, the part

1 that's now gone.

2 MR. McMains: Right.

3 MR. Marks: That says
4 something, doesn't it?

5 CHAIRMAN Soules: All right.
6 Well, are we doing anything here?

7 PROFESSOR Albright: Let's just 8 say I have a lot of direction to take.

9 CHAIRMAN Soules: What?

10 PROFESSOR Albright: I have a 11 lot of direction to take.

12 MR. Marks: A lot of 13 directions.

14 PROFESSOR Albright: Yeah.

15 PROFESSOR Dorsaneo: I think 16 the sentence that Alex drafted at the end of 17 the proposal that she presented to begin with,
18 without regard to what the statute means, is a 19 good starting point, saying the court can 20 reconsider under some circumstances and the 21 first circumstance that, you know, it was a 22 legally incorrect determination, you know,
23 that kind of makes sense to me; that a judge 24 ought to be able to recognize that he or she 25 made a mistake and correct it before it gets

1 corrected on appeal.

2 Now, the dismissal of a party, I don't 3 like that one. And as I tried to say clumsily
4 this morning, that I like the idea of people 5 getting reconsidered if what they did is 6 fraudulent or maybe meets some lesser modern 7 standard that would be the equivalent of, you 8 know, a frivolous pleading standard, you know.

9 If somebody did like what happened in the 10 case that I described, well, they ought to 11 perhaps get reconsidered. But it's possible 12 that just a general reconsideration would be 13 okay, although I have resistance to that. I 14 don't like that for some reason that I can't 15 fully articulate, except that I suspect that 16 there will be a lot of requests to reconsider 17 that are themselves games. So I would suggest 18 that Alex go back and work on that sentence
19 and see if it --

20 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: And see if 21 I can solve all of these problems that we've 22 talked about?

23 MR. McMAINS: In one sentence.

24 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: I will be 25 glad to try if we can then move on to

1 something else.

2 CHAIRMAN SOULES: If you're
3 ready to move on, we're ready to move on. Do 4 you have anything -- well, you've said it.
5 You're ready to go. What do you want to go to 6 now, Alex?

7 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: If anybody
8 has anything else, I don't mean to cut off the 9 debate.

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I meant if 11 you're satisfied that you've got the issues up 12 in the air, and that's probably about all 13 we're going to accomplish on this today, we're 14 obviously not going to try to write this in 15 the Committee as a whole, then we're ready to 16 go on.

17 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Okay.

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: What's next 19 on your list?

20 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Rule 257.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Rule 257.

22 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: And I did
23 not bring a red-lined draft because it was so 24 different from the current rule that it really 25 didn't make much sense. I forgot to bring my

1 rules today, but you might want to look at 2 Rule 257, 258, 259, et cetera.

3 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. Do we 4 have those in the package?

5 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Yes.

6 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. Here
7 it is. Thank you. New Rule 257, Draft 8 3/6/97?

9 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Correct.

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: One page.

11 Has everybody got that? Okay. Alex, go 12 forward.

13 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: What I did
14 here was put all the rules together on motions
15 to change venue for an unfair forum. I made 16 it just a motion practice where the party, 17 which could be any party, can file a motion to 18 change venue. I said they can file it at any 19 time but within a reasonable time after 20 determining that grounds exist for the motion, 21 just to put some kind of cutoff so that they 22 know that they're going to file this motion 23 when the lawsuit is first filed; that they 24 can't wait until trial to do it.

25 I deleted the procedure that requires the

1 moving party to file their own affidavit and 2 the affidavit of three credible witnesses and 3 then have a controverting affidavit to put it
4 in issue. I made it a verified pleading. I 5 don't feel strongly about it being verified or 6 not, and say that they set out the reasons
7 that the party believes it cannot obtain a 8 fair and impartial trial in the county of 9 suit.

10 I've put in here that each party is 11 entitled to 45 days' notice of hearing, which 12 is the same amount of time they're entitled to 13 notice of other venue hearings.

14 I said at the hearing that the court is 15 to make a decision based on the evidence as 16 "evidence" is defined in the special
17 appearance hearing, so pleadings,
18 stipulations, affidavits, discovery and oral 19 testimony. If they want to bring oral 20 testimony, they can, but they can do it on 21 affidavit. Affidavits have to be filed for 22 the movant 30 days before the hearing,
23 responsive affidavits filed seven days before 24 the hearing, and then a standard for 25 affidavits that is from the special appearance

1 rule.

2 And then the standard for the court's
3 decision, the court shall grant the motion 4 upon finding that an impartial trial cannot be 5 had in the county where the action is pending, 6 and then "or for other sufficient cause" comes 7 directly from the current statute. That gives 8 the court a lot of discretion. I didn't know 9 if you all wanted to leave that in there or 10 take it out. I put it in there so that we 11 could be sure to address whether we wanted to 12 leave it in there or bring it out.

13 No. 4 allows for reasonable discovery.

14 No. 5 talks about transfer. The current 15 rule has a hierarchy of counties to transfer 16 the case to. You go to the adjoining county, 17 if it's a proper county. If that's not a 18 proper county, you go to the next adjoining 19 county. I can't remember how it all worked.
20 But what I said is that you can first transfer 21 to any county of proper venue where an 22 impartial trial can be heard. If there's no
23 county of proper venue where an impartial 24 trial can be had, then to any county where an 25 impartial trial could be had or to a county to 1 which the parties agree. And in determining 2 where the cause should be transferred, the 3 court shall consider the convenience to the 4 parties and witnesses and the interests of 5 justice. So the court doesn't just simply 6 choose any county. It at least maybe should 7 have some relationship to convenience and 8 justice.

9 So you might want to take a minute and 10 look at that.

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay.
12 Discussion. Is there any question? First,
13 under the present motion to transfer venue 14 rules, is there a time limit on when 15 affidavits are to be filed before the 16 hearing?

17 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: In the 18 current Rule 86?

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: 85 or 86.

20 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Yes. It's 21 the same, 30 days, seven days.

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: 30 days and 23 seven days.

24 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Right.

25 CHAIRMAN SOULES: All right.

1 Bill Dorsaneo.

2 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Well, I
3 like every one of these changes. But I will 4 say that in Union Carbide vs. Moyer, I could 5 not convince a majority of the Supreme Court 6 that 15.063 and 15.064(a) did not apply to 7 motion to change venue for unfair forum
8 cases. And I hope I couldn't convince them 9 because I was being a very poor advocate that 10 day, because --

11 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: At least 12 they didn't decide against you.

13 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Pardon me?

14 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: They 15 didn't decide against you.

16 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: No, they 17 didn't. They decided on it in my -- not my 18 favor, my client's favor -- on it for a 19 different reason. But this draft has that 20 problem. And 15.063 says that there is a due 21 order of pleading principle applicable to a 22 motion based on impartial trial cannot be had 23 in the county in which the action is pending.
24 And 15.064(a) does say the court shall 25 determine venue questions without talking

1 about proper or improper venue from the 2 pleadings and affidavits.

3 And I would be willing to go with this 4 concept, but just the Committee ought to 5 realize that there are some statutory 6 arguments that are hard to deal with. Now, I 7 had a reason why I couldn't -- I couldn't even 8 get to first base with it. I couldn't even 9 convince the Court that there was even an 10 issue, okay, that these provisions require 11 some interpretation, the statutory provisions.

12 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Is there a 13 due order of pleading in the statute itself?

14 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Yes.

16 that?

17 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: 15.063.
18 And that's the section you were talking about 19 a minute ago about transferring the action.
20 That's a terrible section, because it says the 21 due order rules apply to not just normal
22 motions to transfer venue but to impartial 23 trial and even to consent --

24 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Which is 25 crazy.

1 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: -- consent
2 transfers. And it says there consent
3 transfers when the written consent is filed at 4 any time. So you have to file a due order
5 motion to transfer in anticipation of maybe 6 somebody will agree to transfer it later.

7 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: And in 8 these, if you are in a county where you can't 9 get a fair trial, you have a constitutional 10 right to get a fair trial, so I would think 11 you could argue that the Constitution allows 12 you to file this motion regardless of what the 13 statute says.

14 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: I bet that 15 one would have gone over like a lead balloon.
16 What do you bet?

17 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: I've 18 always taken the position that the legislature 19 was not talking about these motions, but there 20 sure is an argument that they were.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: It sure looks 22 like they were.

23 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Professor,
24 I fully expected to win that argument with the 25 Court, but I couldn't convince -- I couldn't

1 get anybody to salute it.

2 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Well, we 3 have a different Court. The two that voted 4 concurring, the two concurring opinions are 5 still on the Court.

6 CHAIRMAN SOULES: All right.
7 Let me put this issue out first. It may not 8 take long. Is it settled that the Supreme 9 Court cannot give remedies in venue issues
10 beyond what this statute gives? The purpose
11 of that question is, can we give a remedy
12 later for an impartial trial problem, a remedy 13 that is not in Chapter 15 but is created in 14 the rules?

15 MR. McMAINS: The problem with 16 that, the only problem with that, Luke, is the 17 fact that 257 is in fact court-created law
18 initially, and the entire notion of impartial 19 trial stuff in the venue area was brought into 20 Chapter 15 in 1982 where it did not have a 21 statutory basis in the past. So in my 22 judgment, from a legislative notion, to take 23 the position that the statute did not attempt 24 to deal with all venue issues is absolutely 25 opposite of what the legislative history is.

1 It's just the opposite. It started out court
2 created, and the legislature took it all over.

3 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, it was 4 1995. It's always been part legislative.
5 Part legislative from 1995.

6 MR. McMAINS: Yes. But the 7 point is that 257 is court made. There was 8 nothing in 1995 about this change, and then 9 all of a sudden the concept of what was in 257 10 was brought into the statute in the Civil 11 Practice and Remedies Code in 15, so that the 12 legislature did purport to deal with a subject 13 that had previously been dealt with by the 14 court. And to take the position that 15 therefore we're entitled to -- because it 16 started out in the court we're entitled to 17 recreate it again, I think that is directly 18 contrary to what's been going on, is all I'm 19 saying.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, to be 21 more specific, and I think the answer is 22 probably the same, 257 to date has no time in 23 it. So if it got caught up in 15.063 with the 24 time, can we liberalize the time for impartial 25 trial compliance in the rule now by giving it

1 a time, which it didn't have before, or to say 2 it specifically, that can be brought at any 3 time? Is that going to run afoul of 15.063?
4 Right now 257 doesn't say when it can be 5 filed.

6 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: 86 does.

7 CHAIRMAN SOULES: And 15.063
8 says when it can be filed.

9 MR. McMANS: What does 86 say?

10 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: When we 11 drafted 86, what we tried to do was to erase 12 15.063 because it says --

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Enlarge
14 15.063.

15 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Yeah.
16 Well, improve.

17 MR. McMANS: Fix.

18 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Interpret.
19 It says, "A motion to transfer venue because 20 an impartial trial cannot be had in the county 21 where the action is pending is governed by the 22 provision of Rule 257," which was perhaps an 23 inartful way of saying, "Go read 257, which 24 doesn't have a time."

25 MR. McMANS: Yeah, leave us

1 alone.

2 CHAIRMAN SOULES: What I'm 3 suggesting is that we add a remedy that's not 4 in the statute by providing a 257 transfer of 5 venue at any time and say so.

6 MR. McMANS: Well, now, one
7 question I have is, if we're going to have 8 some kind of time limits, shouldn't we -- 9 rather than just leaving it kind of wide open, 10 I mean, shouldn't there be a sufficient amount 11 of time prior to trial before you can go ahead 12 and assert this motion?

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Sure. I
14 don't have a problem with that, whatever time 15 that is. I'm trying to deal now with giving 16 it a duration or having a window longer than 17 15.063 and saying so in 257, just that idea.

18 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Unfair
19 forum, impartial --

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I mean, this 21 is a due process issue. Can't the court 22 engraft a remedy or write a remedy that's not 23 in the statute that provides due process to 24 parties in civil litigation?

25 MR. MARKS: You mean without

1 dealing with it in a specific case?

2 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Yes, without 3 doing it in a specific case.

4 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: One would 5 think they clearly could do it if you made up 6 some sort of standard that, you know, when it 7 becomes clearer, when it becomes known,
8 something like that, that you then can do it, 9 you know. Like if the circumstances that 10 would demonstrate that the forum is an unfair 11 forum arise or are learned, you know, later, 12 then you can move to transfer venue.

13 MR. MARKS: Well, are there
14 cases on the books now dealing with that as a 15 due process issue? And could you use those as 16 authority for it?

17 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: There
18 aren't many of these cases to begin with, and 19 most of them are old.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, Bill's
21 suggestion to Alex is that we try to pick up a 22 standard -- I'm going to see if there's 23 anything under 257 -- that we try to pick up a 24 standard to put into the rule. There's 25 certainly no standard in the Texas Practice

1 and Remedies Code. How do you respond to 2 that, Alex? Do you feel like that's doable?

3 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Well, I'm 4 not sure what the standard is. I'm not sure
5 what you're trying -- you're trying to make it 6 a constitutional issue?

7 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I'm trying to 8 say when a party is faced with this level of 9 prejudice, then this remedy is available as a 10 matter of due process.

11 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Or you
12 could just say when a party cannot obtain a 13 fair and impartial trial in the county where 14 the action is pending -- when a party cannot 15 obtain a fair and impartial trial in the 16 county where the action is pending, the party 17 may file a motion according to the provisions 18 of this rule.

19 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: In my 20 view, somebody ought to file the motion early 21 if they know early that they can't get a fair 22 trial in Dallas County. But if they don't 23 know, then they shouldn't be tripped up by a 24 due order rule.

25 MR. MARKS: Maybe you don't

1 know until the jury panel is out there in 2 front of you.

3 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's where 4 this usually gets resolved. There are cases
5 that say you carry this right to jury 6 selection and you look them in the eye, and 7 the trial judge decides whenever he hears -- 8 isn't that right, Judge Brister? There's a 9 case we've had --

10 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: That's 11 the way we do it.

12 MR. ORSINGER: Well, in some 13 instances it's going to be post-lawsuit
14 publicity that's going to affect your venire, 15 and that isn't going to happen until after the 16 newspaper coverage for your lawsuit starts.

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: If we look at 18 the standards in 257 --

19 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: But in 20 some instances you're going to know right from 21 the beginning that you're not going to get a 22 fair trial for this case here.

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Like one of 24 these standards in current Rule 257: That 25 there is a combination against him instigated

1 by influential persons by reason of which he 2 cannot expect a fair and impartial trial.
3 Now, my word, you discover that after a due
4 order of pleadings and you can't get out?
5 That's in the present rule, the combination
6 against him in the county. And he can't get a 7 fair trial there because of it. I mean, all 8 of these except for -- well, (a) and (b) are 9 pretty much at the level of due process in the 10 current 257. The other one is there exists in 11 the county so great a prejudice against him 12 that he can't obtain it.

13 MR. HAMILTON: Well, 15.063 has 14 another problem in that subdivision (3) under 15 that which refers to written consent of the 16 parties filed at any time. So that's totally 17 inconsistent with the concept of due order
18 pleadings that you have to file that motion 19 concurrently with or before you file an 20 answer.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Yeah. But
22 Harold Nix didn't want to leave that county, 23 so they wouldn't agree. Harold Nix. That was 24 your case, wasn't it? Moye? They wanted to 25 stay in that East Texas county, Lone Star. I

1 mean, the plaintiffs, not Lone Star. Lone
2 Star wanted out. So you couldn't get written 3 consent of all parties. I see what you're 4 saying.

5 MR. HAMILTON: I'm just saying
6 that that third section sort of renders 7 meaningless the due order pleading in the 8 opening paragraph, because you can't file 9 something at any time and also file it at the 10 same time you file your answer.

11 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: But you 12 could file your motion in anticipation of 13 getting the written consent in the hope that 14 you'll get the written consent at some later 15 time. And it all makes sense, then, in 16 English, although it doesn't make reasonable 17 sense in practice. That ends up being a hard 18 argument, Carl. It ends up being a hard 19 argument that because the last part is silly, 20 the second part shouldn't be taken literally.

21 MR. MARKS: Well, also it says
22 if written consent is filed.

23 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: At any 24 time.

25 MR. MARKS: At any time written

1 consent is filed.

2 CHAIRMAN SOULES: But that's 3 only if you filed your motion.

4 MR. MARKS: Right, exactly.
5 That's the point.

6 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Because 7 filing a motion timely is before the colon, 8 and after the colon one of the options you can 9 have is if they all agree. I mean, it's -- 10 anyway, why don't we try this, Alex: Work in 11 at least (a) and (b) and maybe combine (c) and 12 (d) of old 257 to say that -- or maybe just 13 skip (c), and say in (d) for other sufficient 14 due process cause to be determined by the 15 court.

16 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Well, I
17 felt like the first three were all the 18 inability to get a fair and impartial trial, 19 and I don't see how using the language of (a), 20 (b) and (c) helps anything.

21 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: But Luke
22 is saying we can try to get around the statute 23 that way.

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, I'm not 25 trying to get around the statute. I'm trying

1 to recognize that there is a due process issue
2 that the statute does not reach, and the court 3 is obligated to provide due process.

4 And Bill, you might not have heard this 5 because it kind of passed across this side of 6 my table, but one way to buttress what is 7 being done is to put a due process standard 8 into 257.

9 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Maybe what 10 we need to do is look at the due process cases 11 and see if there's any language in the due 12 process cases that is different from an 13 impartial trial which is in 15.063, maybe go 14 more towards the fairness instead of the 15 impartiality.

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's a 17 thought. Okay. Well, that will take some 18 work. The idea is made and is on the table.
19 Rusty.

20 MR. McMANS: The cases under 21 257, prior to Nix's case that was decided, 22 pretty well established that the function of 23 the affidavits was to get you here and then 24 you had to make the determination, but if you 25 didn't have affidavits you didn't get a

1 hearing. This rule, the way it's now drawn,
2 appears to say that they can consider the 3 motion without regard to having affidavits.

4 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: The way I
5 wrote this was to make this a motion like 6 other motions. If you file a motion, then you 7 join the issue, instead of going around the 8 county to get the affidavits of three credible 9 witnesses.

10 MR. McMAINS: But it was judge-
11 made rules to begin with and then judge-made 12 law with regard to those rules as to how 13 you -- essentially of the idea that you don't 14 just get to file a motion saying, "I can't get 15 a fair trial in this county," all of a sudden 16 at any time and it gives the judge the power 17 to do something.

18 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Well, this 19 is judge-made procedure from pre-1941 and 20 we've changed lots of procedures since then, 21 so I'm just throwing out a new procedure.

22 MR. McMAINS: No, it wasn't.
23 We changed it in 1983.

24 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: If you
25 don't like it, vote against it.

1 MR. McMains: We rewrote 257 in 2 1983.

3 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. We 4 want to be very specific about the procedural 5 changes. Alex has brought this forward to a 6 more modern motion-type practice without a 7 bunch of predicates filed with it. It could 8 go either way. I don't care. The Committee 9 can at least demonstrate a consensus on 10 whether there should be affidavits and so 11 forth.

12 Alex, what we're expressing here, of 13 course, is the concern that to what extent is 14 15.063 preemptive of the judiciary's power to 15 give litigants due process in an impartial 16 environment. Okay?

17 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: I 18 understand that.

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: So we're
20 saying it's not -- it goes as far as it goes, 21 but it doesn't cover all of the waterfront,
22 and the judiciary has an obligation to cover 23 all the waterfront, so what this doesn't cover 24 let's cover by a rule. And hopefully then 25 that's not going to put the Court and the 1 legislature into conflict over who has the 2 power to do what, because one is doing one

3 thing, which is fine, and the other has to do 4 its job too, which ought to be fine with the 5 first. So that's where we're going forward.

6 Now, as far as the procedure is 7 concerned, do we want to burden -- and I don't 8 mean to use that word in a negative sense -- 9 to burden the filing process with affidavits, 10 or do we want to let it trigger it with the 11 motion process or something like Alex has 12 got? Can we debate that right now and give 13 Alex some guidance on that?

14 Okay. Rusty, I take it you favor the 15 affidavits in the process of filing?

16 MR. McMANS: Well, actually 17 she has a verification requirement of the 18 motion, so she already crossed the threshold
19 anyway, which of course, we don't have it 20 verified anywhere else.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, she has 22 got that there, and she said she didn't know 23 whether we would want to do it or not. So 24 we've got an unsworn motion, a sworn motion, 25 an unsworn motion with affidavits, a sworn

1 motion with affidavits. I guess we've got 2 four different ways of doing this.

3 Let me see first if there's a consensus.
4 How many feel that this should be triggered by 5 the filing of an unsworn motion without 6 affidavits? Unsworn motion without 7 affidavits.

8 MR. HAMILTON: Are you
9 eliminating evidence, oral evidence?

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: No, no. This 11 is just the filing that triggers the process.

12 MR. McMAINS: That gives you a
13 hearing.

14 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That gets the 15 process going.

16 One.

17 How many feel that it should be by sworn 18 motion without affidavits? One.

19 How many feel it should be by unsworn
20 motion with affidavits? 10.

21 How many feel it should be by sworn 22 motion with affidavits? All right.

23 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: How many?

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: There were 25 10 votes in favor of an unsworn motion with

1 affidavits, so that part of the old rule will 2 be preserved.

3 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: So do you
4 all want affidavits of three credible
5 residents of the county or what?

6 CHAIRMAN SOULES: How many 7 affidavits? By whom first.

8 MR. McMains: How about 9 affidavits of three people who aren't credible 10 residents?

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: We already 12 know there is going to be one, or maybe it's 13 two, because I had it plural in the last 14 question. I'll do it this way: Three, two,
15 one.

16 How many people think it ought to be 17 three affidavits? Two.

18 Two affidavits? Five.

19 One affidavit. Okay.

20 Now we're going to vote between two and 21 one, because the threes lost.

22 How many think it ought to have one
23 affidavit? Six.

24 How many think it should have two 25 affidavits? Six.

1 Since it's tied, it will be no
2 affidavits. I'll break the tie.

3 MR. ORSINGER: Luke, how about 4 one credible and one not credible?

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Richard
6 proposes one credible and one not credible.

7 All right. Two affidavits, then, I
8 guess. I don't know. Write it two, and we'll 9 see what more people say next time.

10 Now, do we want this credible?

11 MR. ORSINGER: How do you judge 12 credible?

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Two 14 affidavits. Two self-serving affidavits.

15 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: What do
16 these affidavits have to say?

17 MR. MARKS: Well, you have 18 credible when you've got four people as to 19 each person that's giving an affidavit
20 swearing that this is credible.

21 MR. ORSINGER: It's like 22 authenticating a certified copy.

23 MR. McMAINS: But they don't 24 have to be credible themselves?

25 MR. MARKS: No. They just have

1 to know about that person's reputation.

2 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: What do
3 these affidavits have to say?

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Let me
5 shorthand that and see if this is responsive:
6 They have to be prima facie evidence
7 supporting the grounds of the motion. Prima
8 facie evidence supporting the grounds asserted 9 in the motion.

10 MR. ORSINGER: Do they have to 11 be residents of the county?

12 CHAIRMAN SOULES: No.

13 MR. McMAINS: Yes.

14 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Yes?

15 MR. McMAINS: Well, that is 16 what the current rule is.

17 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: That's 18 what the rule is, but I would --

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: All right.
20 Residents of the county, yes or no?

21 MR. ORSINGER: I don't know.
22 That excludes experts that you hire that do 23 surveys and come back and say, you know, 24 "There's no way you can get a fair trial. We 25 did a survey of 800 people." They would be

1 precluded.

2 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay.

3 MR. McMAINS: What if you have 4 two affidavits and at least one of them should 5 be a resident of the county?

6 MR. MARKS: Well, I mean, you
7 could have two affidavits and then you could 8 have the affidavit of somebody like that. It
9 would be kind of icing on the cake, but I
10 think it would be certainly evidentiary.

11 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Well, if 12 you can't get one county resident to say this 13 is unfair, then that's pretty unfair.

14 MR. ORSINGER: Well, it depends
15 on how unfair it is, because a lot of people 16 are scared to sign these affidavits. I went 17 through this process because I was involved in 18 a divorce case against the county judge, and 19 everybody told me that I couldn't get a fair
20 trial there, but I couldn't get anybody
21 willing to sign an affidavit that I couldn't 22 get a fair trial there.

23 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Well, you
24 won't be able to get that judge -- he won't 25 transfer it then anyway. It doesn't matter.

1 MR. ORSINGER: Well, we had the 2 transfer hearing in his courtroom with a 3 visiting judge who did move it to the next 4 county.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. In the 6 county or out of the county? Those who say 7 the affidavits must be in county show by 8 hands.

9 Out of county show by hands. Okay.
10 There were no votes for in county and 10 to 11 permit out of county, so there will be no
12 restriction on the source of the residents.
13 Where the persons making the affidavits must 14 reside, there will be no limitation on that.

15 MR. MARKS: Luke.

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: John Marks.

17 MR. MARKS: I'm kind of going 18 back a little bit, but it seems to me that in 19 view of the due process and constitutional 20 problem involved with this, we may want to 21 think about not doing anything to the existing 22 rule and leaving it like it is.

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, a lot 24 of people think it's preempted by 15.063, and 25 Bill couldn't get the Supreme Court to say

1 otherwise.

2 MR. MARKS: Okay.

3 CHAIRMAN SOULES: And it just 4 can't be preempted. I think we need to come
5 forward with something, but I don't know.

6 Who agrees with John that we should just 7 do nothing and leave 257 on the books as it 8 is? Does everybody agree with that?

9 MR. HAMILTON: Can I say
10 something else?

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Carl.

12 MR. HAMILTON: It seems to me
13 that it can't be preempted in that if we 14 provide in our write of the rules that these 15 motions under 257 to 259 can be filed at any 16 time, then that is in direct conflict with the 17 statute. So the Supreme Court is going to 18 have to decide is that language in the statute 19 unconstitutional, and if so, and they say, 20 then the rule will prevail. So why do we need 21 to rewrite the rule?

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Other than 23 the reason I gave earlier, I have nothing to 24 add to it.

25 MR. MARKS: Well, it just seems

1 to me that if we're writing it in response to 2 the changes in the law, we're conceding that 3 15.063 applies. And if we do that, then that 4 ain't good.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay.
6 Anything else on that? Those who believe 257 7 should be rewritten along the lines of our 8 discussion today show by hands. Nine.

9 Those who believe it should not be and it
10 should be left alone. Two.

11 Nine to two it will be rewritten. Okay.
12 Anything else on 257? Do you need anything
13 else on this, Alex?

14 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Well, the 15 other thing I do that potentially conflicts
16 with the statute is I say the court can hear 17 oral testimony. In the Moye case, Union
18 Carbide vs. Moye, Justices Gonzalez and Hecht 19 discussed it. Both of them felt like that the 20 court could hear oral testimony, but there is 21 clearly an argument that you can't hear oral 22 testimony.

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: What's the 24 argument that you cannot?

25 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: That under

1 15.064 in all venue hearings -- well, that's a 2 different sentence -- the court shall 3 determine venue questions from the pleadings 4 and affidavits.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well,
6 hopefully we'll fix that by saying this is a 7 new due process area problem that we set the 8 rules on, we, the Court, if the Court decides 9 to go with this.

10 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: But this 11 is not venue, this is due process.

12 MR. ORSINGER: It really isn't 13 venue in the sense that the legislation was 14 designed to treat a problem, in my view.

15 MR. MARKS: Is the Court going 16 to want to deal with this issue outside the 17 context of someone challenging it?

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I don't 19 know. But by nine to two we want the Court to 20 do so.

21 MR. MARKS: I'm just raising
22 the question.

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I do not 24 know. Okay. Anything else on 257? Okay.
25 That will be on our agenda next time again.

1 Next.

2 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: Do you
3 want to go to 174? I've got the copies out.

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Yes, sir.
5 I'd like to do that right now. Thank you very 6 much. This is 174.

7 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER:
8 Everybody should have the February 2, 1997, 9 letter by now. Look at Page 2, probably would 10 be best. It's just a rundown of the 11 differences of the various proposals. The 12 first is our rule, which is shorter than any 13 of the others, unlike most of our rules. The 14 second one is the federal rule, which has two 15 differences from the state rule. On the 16 second line, in addition to convenience and 17 avoiding prejudice, you can do a separate 18 trial for expedition, for purposes of 19 expedition and economy. All of the other 20 proposed drafts also suggest putting that into 21 the state rule as well. I'm not sure why it 22 was left out, if it was for any -- in any 23 event, the other thing is that the federal 24 rule has the tack-on about the seventh -- 25 don't forget about the Seventh Amendment,

1 which I'm not sure who was about to forget it,
2 but somebody apparently was about to forget 3 about it or were afraid they were, and that's 4 not in any of the other rules.

5 The Court Rules Committee draft, again, 6 adds the "promote efficiency and economy," and 7 then it adds on the fourth line, even though
8 the state rule is completely broad, Iley vs.
9 Hughes says it doesn't -- in personal injury 10 accidents, you can't divide liability and 11 damages into separate trials.

12 There's a lot of confusion in the cases 13 between separate trials and bifurcation. We 14 don't have any rule at all on bifurcation, 15 although bifurcation is always cited.
16 Bifurcation cases always cite to this rule.
17 Technically, bifurcation is one jury, two 18 parts of a trial. A separate trial is two 19 trials, two juries.

20 MR. McMAINS: Maybe even one
21 judge.

22 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: Right, 23 so this as well as the two remaining. All the 24 proposals we got, suggest adding liability and 25 damages can be at least bifurcated, and the

1 argument that they make is that Iley vs.
2 Hughes was pre-comparative negligence.

3 The concern was, in personal injury
4 actions, I know how to shorten this trial;
5 let's just try the plaintiff's negligence
6 first, and if we find the jury answers yes to 7 plaintiff's negligence, end of the trial,
8 because any kind of contributory negligence
9 was a complete bar to the rest of the case.
10 That's at least what they suggest as the 11 reason that we no longer need to ban 12 separating liability and damages parts of the 13 trial, because we have comparative negligence
14 now.

15 The Court Rules Committee adds this about 16 prerequisite claims. Again, I think the 17 current state rule is broad enough, but all 18 the proposals add this, and several cases have 19 allowed it under our current rule where, for 20 instance, if you have a bill of review case
21 you can have two separate trials. You can 22 just say, look, we're just going to try the 23 bill of review first, and then if the 24 plaintiff wins on bill of review, then we'll 25 do discovery and do a regular trial on the 1 rest of the case. But to make that explicit 2 is a suggestion.

3 And the main difference in the last three 4 proposals we have is the last line, when it 5 should be by separate trial and when it should 6 be simply by bifurcation. The Court Rules
7 Committee draft was that where practicable it
8 would be the same jury; you would bifurcate
9 rather than separate the trials.

10 The TADC, et cetera, proposal says the 11 court may allow the same jury to try both 12 cases, completely discretionary either way.
13 The State Bar Administration of Justice draft, 14 the last line makes a presumption, actually 15 makes it mandatory that it's bifurcation, not 16 separate trial, unless the parties by written 17 agreement specify otherwise.

18 So those are the issues. I didn't see 19 any reason to come up with any new drafts.
20 Those pretty much set them out. So it seems 21 to me that, No. 1, whether to add this economy 22 and efficiency in, which they all suggest 23 doing, parallel with the federal rule. No. 2, 24 whether to add language, make it explicit,
25 contra Iley vs. Hughes that you can separate

1 liability and damages. No. 3, whether you
2 separate -- we're talking about separating
3 trials when we're doing that or bifurcation.
4 And No. 4, whether to add language to make 5 explicit what already appears to be the 6 current law in the current rule that this can 7 be prerequisite issues as well.

8 I would just say that in Harris County at 9 least, bifurcating liability and damages is 10 done all the time on long cases.

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: In personal 12 injury cases.

13 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: Michael
14 Bryan 10 years ago, I know, on the first one 15 of the Brio toxic cases, we tried liability, 16 sent the jury out, yes, the home
17 manufacturers, et cetera, are liable, and the 18 case settled during the damages phase. All 19 the multi-district litigation, big mass tort 20 cases frequently suggest that as one
21 possibility, getting the liability verdict, 22 then going into the damages phase especially 23 if you've got 100, 200 plaintiffs, because 24 that takes a lot longer perhaps than liability 25 does.

1 I know even in some cases, you know, one
2 of my colleagues on asbestos cases tried -- 3 what is it -- tried causation first, then 4 liability, then damages. I'm not suggesting 5 that's the best way to try asbestos cases.
6 I'm just telling you this goes on every week
7 in Harris County, so for what it's worth.

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. I've 9 got Iley vs. Hughes, same jury and 10 prerequisite issue. What was the first one?
11 I've only got 2, 3 and 4.

12 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: Adding 13 as grounds to separate trials and bifurcation 14 expedition and economy.

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. Let me
16 try and start with an easy one and then I 17 think I'm going to take some of these 18 backwards.

19 Prerequisite issues. Is anybody opposed 20 to specifying that prerequisite issues can be 21 tried separately? No objection, so that's 22 done.

23 Next, I think same jury or not same jury 24 may influence a decision on Iley vs. Hughes or 25 no, so I'm going to take same jury first.

1 Same jury, (a), where practicable; (b), may 2 allow -- whether that's different or not, I
3 don't know; third, shall allow. The COAJ rule 4 at the bottom makes it mandatory that the same 5 jury try separate issues that are not 6 severable. TADC, et cetera --

7 MR. MARKS: Doesn't the Court
8 Rules Committee draft supersede the 9 Administration of Justice draft?

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: It doesn't 11 make any difference. They're all good ideas.
12 Let's talk about them.

13 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: They 14 were all in the materials. I don't know what 15 the information is.

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: They're all 17 good ideas, or maybe they're bad ideas, but --

18 MR. MARKS: -- they're all 19 ideas.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: -- they're 21 all ideas, so let's talk about them.

22 TADC says may allow the same jury, and 23 then Court Rules says where practicable shall 24 allow. Okay. Without getting into whether 25 "allowed" is the right word or not, let's

1 talk about those three concepts. Who wants to 2 start? Rusty.

3 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: You went 4 by "prerequisite" so fast, I don't know what 5 in the world that exactly means.

6 CHAIRMAN SOULES: It's try the 7 bill of review before you retry the main case.

8 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: The 9 ones mentioned in the materials were the bill 10 of review, limitations, and due diligence on 11 service, which is really part of limitations.
12 In other words, something that's entirely 13 different from any of the issues in the 14 lawsuit.

15 MR. ORSINGER: Let me suggest
16 also, the PJC 5 suggests on premarital
17 agreements that the court may want to try a 18 premarital agreement enforceability question
19 before it tries the property division in a 20 divorce, and that's often done around Texas.
21 That is an example.

22 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Well, I'm 23 still not comfortable that that has any 24 particular meaning except the meaning you want 25 to assign to it.

1 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Does it do
2 harm?

3 MR. McMAINS: Yes.

4 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Well, I
5 think it might, yes. I think you could say 6 that liability is prerequisite to getting to 7 damages. Then that gets back to malice is 8 prerequisite to exemplary damages.

9 MR. ORSINGER: Or whether a
10 condition precedent is prerequisite to a cause 11 of action for a breach of contract.

12 MR. McMAINS: One of the 13 problems is that it does involve duplicity 14 frequently. You duplicate efforts by 15 trying --

16 MR. ORSINGER: But we're not 17 requiring it, right? We're just permitting 18 it. All we're saying is --

19 MR. McMAINS: Well, I
20 understand, but it's hard for me to see how 21 you can justify on economy grounds trying the 22 same issue repeatedly just hoping that the 23 plaintiff is going to lose, which is basically 24 what that amounts to.

25 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: Baker

1 vs. Goldsmith says under the current rule you 2 can do it.

3 MR. McMAINS: Under a bill of 4 review.

5 MR. ORSINGER: Wait a minute,
6 all Baker vs. Goldsmith says is that you have 7 to make a prima facie showing of a meritorious 8 defense in a nonevidentiary hearing before a 9 trial.

10 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: It goes 11 on to describe the process thereafter, which 12 includes that the court may want to consider 13 bifurcating -- I mean, separating the trials 14 under 174(b).

15 MR. ORSINGER: I don't have a 16 problem that you might want to bifurcate the 17 bill of review from the trial on the merits, 18 but the Baker vs. Goldsmith pretrial hearing 19 on a meritorious defense is really different 20 from your subsequent trial.

21 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER:
22 Absolutely.

23 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: It's 24 certainly not a broad concept that everything 25 that could be considered prerequisite can be

1 tried separately earlier. That is a specific 2 game plan for a specific type of litigation.

3 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: The
4 funny thing about the rule is, of course, the 5 rule as currently stated says you can divide 6 it up just as many times and in as many slices
7 as you want. That's what the words say. Now,
8 Iley vs. Hughes says, of course, that doesn't 9 mean liability versus damages.

10 On the other hand, other cases say, of 11 course, that does mean limitations can be 12 tried first if there's a serious limitations
13 question before you do all the expensive 14 discovery on this. You know, draw a rule that 15 says the following 200 can be done separately 16 and the following 300 can't, but that's going 17 to be a mess.

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay.

19 HON. C. A. GUITTARD: I've got 20 a question.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Justice
22 Guittard.

23 HON. C. A. GUITTARD: The 24 standing, that may involve fact issues, and 25 sometimes it may be more convenient to

1 establish the standing, yes or no, before you
2 go into, say, for instance, a will contest.

3 While we're working on this too --

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Is that a
5 jury question, standing?

6 HON. C. A. GUITTARD: Could be.

7 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Could be.

8 Okay.

9 HON. C. A. GUITTARD: Could 10 be. For instance, I recall a case where there 11 was agreement between the parties that was 12 alleged to have had the result that one of the 13 parties didn't have the standing to contest a 14 will, and that was defended on facts that had 15 to be --

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That could be 17 accepted to benefit or something. Okay.

18 HON. C. A. GUITTARD: And here
19 is another matter that I would like to call 20 attention to on this separate trial thing: In 21 our Appellate Rules, which seem to be pretty 22 mature at this time, in our provision about 23 what the courts can do at both the court of 24 appeals and Supreme Court level about 25 remanding error affecting only part of the 1 case, if the error affects part but not all of 2 the matter in controversy and that part is 3 separable without unfairness to the parties, 4 the judgment must be reversed and a new trial 5 ordered only as to the part affected by the 6 error. But the court may not order a separate 7 trial solely on unliquidated damages if 8 liability is contested. Now, is that what 9 we're proposing that would make us review

10 that?

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Yeah. If we 12 make this change, that might get reviewed.

13 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: The last 14 sentence.

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, the 16 last sentence would come out.

17 MR. ORSINGER: It permits the 18 trial court to do something that we don't 19 permit the Supreme Court to do. I don't know 20 what sense that makes. But that's possible.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, it's 22 possible, yeah. Maybe we just need to open 23 this whole thing up. I was hoping to get to 24 maybe something easier, but in the context of 25 mandatory same jury or do whatever you want,

1 same jury or more juries, I guess all these 2 things come up. So maybe we ought to take 3 that first so that we know what -- whether 4 we're going to be trying these predicate
5 issues, Iley vs. Hughes issues or expedition 6 and economy, separable issues, either to the 7 same jury or some other jury. In part that 8 also addresses what Rusty raised earlier, and 9 that's duplicating proof. Certainly if you 10 have two juries you have to get enough to the 11 second jury, if there is anything from the 12 first trial for the second jury to function.

13 But anyway, let's first talk about 14 whether in separate trials, not severances,
15 but in separate trials a judge, a trial court 16 should be required to try the separately tried 17 issues to the same jury until -- well, to the 18 same jury. Rusty.

19 MR. McMANS: Luke, I just want
20 to make an observation, especially when you 21 look at where the sources are. It was in the 22 '80s that we basically passed the rules which 23 said that you can predicate liability findings
24 on damage answers, you know, or damage answers 25 on liability findings, in essence allowing the

1 jury to know that no damages are awarded if 2 they answer the liability questions a 3 particular way. Since that time there have 4 been back-door efforts to try and avoid the 5 application of those rules with regards to the 6 PJC. That's what in my judgment a lot -- and 7 this argument about Iley vs. Hughes being 8 based on comparative negligence I think is 9 silly, because Iley vs. Hughes is based on the 10 notion of splitting causes of action and just 11 saying you don't try pieces of causes of 12 action here and there either to different
13 juries or the same jury. It doesn't matter 14 whether or not it's a personal injury where 15 comparative negligence may apply or any other 16 unliquidated damages case including a 17 contract.

18 But it does make a difference when you 19 say that the rights with regards to -- that 20 the jury is entitled to know we don't have to 21 consider the damages if we deal with the 22 liability and the defendant is saying, "No, we 23 don't want that. We don't want them to know 24 how much they're damaged. We don't want any 25 proof about the quadriplegic. We want to keep

1 all of this evidence away from the jury so
2 that we can talk distinctly in this little 3 narrow canister about liability issues and not 4 what the impact is on the plaintiff, be it in 5 a personal injury case, or how devastating it 6 was with regards to a defendant in a contract 7 case in terms of what the consequences of the 8 conduct are. We've got to segregate those so 9 we can try these pristinely in one area or 10 another, and preferably I'd like to start with 11 my affirmative defenses. Let's try those 12 first."

13 Now, to allow the court to do that, it 14 seems to me, is directly contrary to any kind 15 of notions of economy and efficiency, except 16 in a very limited number of circumstances. It 17 is otherwise just largely directed about let's 18 see how many hoops we can make somebody jump 19 through before they can go ahead and get to 20 the end of the line. And that's what I think 21 all of this rules change and all of the 22 dispute with regards to Iley vs. Hughes is 23 about.

24 But a more fundamental question is the 25 one raised by Justice Guittard. If we're not

1 going to change it in the courts of appeals
2 and the Supreme Court where they have 3 determined that you have gone through a trial
4 and you have established your liability beyond 5 dispute in terms of you can't attack it on 6 appeal, but we're going to send you back to 7 retry that because we find there's an error in 8 the damages in some way or another and we're 9 going to send the whole thing back -- and 10 that's what the Court does. That's what 11 they've done since Iley vs. Hughes.

12 As long as liability is contested, unless 13 you're dealing with a default situation or a 14 stipulated liability situation, they always 15 send it back to retry both liability and 16 damages, and that's because of the notions 17 about splitting causes of action that they 18 don't like. And what's good enough for the 19 appellate courts is good enough for the trial 20 courts in my judgment.

21 I mean, I don't like the federal 22 procedure where they do send back unliquidated
23 damage claims to be tried in the face of a 24 liability finding that has been unsuccessfully 25 attacked, or vice versa where they have got a

1 damage finding which they leave alone and send 2 you back to try liability already knowing what 3 your damages are going to be or going to be 4 limited to one way or the other.

6 Orsinger.

7 MR. ORSINGER: I'm not sure I
8 understand whether somebody is attempting to 9 change the way we do things now, but I can't 10 get away from feeling that somebody doesn't 11 like the practice that exists under the 12 current rules and they're trying to improve 13 their litigation posture, because I haven't 14 heard anybody declaring that we have problems 15 with our current rule in the way that it's 16 being administered by our courts. And I'm 17 wondering if what's going on here is that 18 there is some tilting of the litigation 19 process that somebody is engaging in that's 20 not stated, because I haven't heard it
21 articulated, nor have I heard articulated why 22 our current rule doesn't work. Maybe I just 23 missed it.

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Alex
25 Albright.

1 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: One place
2 where it doesn't work is in these mass tort 3 cases where courts are trying to figure out 4 how to efficiently handle huge numbers of 5 cases.

6 MR. ORSINGER: But Scott says
7 that they're doing it in Houston, so what's 8 broken with the rule?

9 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: Well,
10 you read Iley vs. Hughes and it's completely 11 against Texas law what we're doing.

12 MR. ORSINGER: Are the cases
13 getting reversed?

14 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: No,
15 because the vast majority of the time, once 16 you get the ruling on liability, then the case 17 settles without going through four months of 18 damages. Now, does that mean you might not 19 get mandamused for it or you might not get 20 reversed? You really don't know. But the 21 problem is the birth and growth of the 22 multiple mass tort, complex month-long cases.
23 That's the pressure behind the rule.

24 MR. ORSINGER: If that's your 25 problem, I think it would be a lot easier for

1 us to write a rule to address the problems
2 that are particular to those cases than to 3 take a rule that governs the other 99.99
4 percent of our lawsuits and try to write a 5 rule to cover the one tenth of one percent 6 that affects the others.

7 MR. MARKS: Well, I disagree
8 with that, trying to specifically write a rule 9 to cover all possibilities where a separate 10 trial may be appropriate under the 11 circumstances. I think giving the court 12 discretion to do that in certain situations is 13 what is needed, and not some specific rule 14 relating to a specific situation. That kind 15 of goes against, you know, what you try to do 16 with rules in the first place.

17 MR. ORSINGER: But it gets us
18 right in the middle of the fight that you're 19 going to take your ordinary automobile case or 20 your ordinary contract case and you're going 21 to change the way we've tried it for 100 years 22 because now people have invented these 23 multiple-plaintiff mass tort cases.

24 MR. MARKS: Well, not 25 necessarily, because, and correct me if I'm

1 wrong, in a contract case you can do that now.

2 MR. ORSINGER: If the damages
3 are unliquidated.

4 HON. SCOTT A BRISTER: Iley vs.
5 Hughes is limited to personal injury.

6 MR. MARKS: That's right. So
7 the only difference would be, again, would it 8 apply in personal injury cases.

9 HON. C. A. GUITTARD: Well, the 10 appellate rule would.

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Bill
12 Dorsaneo.

13 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Well, in 14 sitting here listening to this, what I just 15 determined is that we have one case, Iley vs.
16 Hughes, which works in a particular context
17 and means a particular thing, although it 18 could be argued to be applicable in another 19 context. It seems to me that on principle
20 Iley vs. Hughes is inconsistent with Moriel, 21 and Moriel works in the context in which it 22 operates.

23 We don't know the answer to the question
24 about the mass tort cases. And this rule 25 accommodates with benefit -- the current rule

1 accommodates with benefit of subsequent 2 interpretation everything that might be 3 conceivable, although it doesn't deal with the 4 same jury issue. Am I wrong, Judge Brister?

5 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: Well,
6 just as a trial judge, I would prefer not to 7 do something that I know is contrary to the 8 law just because it works. And I've never 9 bifurcated -- again, there's a big difference 10 in my mind between bifurcation and separate 11 trials.

12 I mean, in a bifurcated trial the jury is 13 going to hear about the paraplegia from the 14 first minute of voir dire through the opening 15 statement, et cetera. It's not like that's 16 going to be excluded, though, of course, the 17 counterargument that these folks make is what 18 logical reason is there to throw paraplegia in 19 when the question is liability? How bad the 20 damage was logically has nothing to do with 21 it. That's their big argument, if you're just 22 trying to prejudice the liability factor. But 23 that argument, I don't care one way or the 24 other, I don't know how that would affect it.

25 But certainly bifurcating the trial into

1 various parts with the same jury, I think we 2 need to say that that's okay. And as I read
3 Iley vs. Hughes, mass tort and personal injury
4 stuff, it is not okay. It specifically said
5 that that's not what this rule reaches. When 6 you look at the rule, the language of the rule 7 certainly reaches it, but I think we need the 8 rule to at least change that result to allow 9 it before the same jury, bifurcation, if not 10 separate trials.

11 Then you've also got to consider the bad
12 faith insurance contract stuff. Yes, you can 13 do those severance; sometimes you have to do
14 them severance. But you can also do them 15 separate trial without severing. How about 16 bifurcating? I mean, you know, when you get 17 into the question about, you know, you have to 18 bifurcate or you have to have a separate 19 trial, there are just so many different
20 contexts this arises in, I would hate to say 21 anything in the rule other than "may" and let 22 it just continue to work out case by case.
23 The court may, you know, do separate trials on 24 liability and damages. I don't know. Does 25 the complex litigation thing suggest to you

1 sometimes on a huge class action or something 2 that you try liability and then a different 3 jury later?

4 MR. McMAINS: You're talking
5 about in class actions?

6 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: Class
7 action kind of things.

8 MR. McMAINS: Class action
9 determinations are simply different anyway 10 because they can be tried -- they can be 11 certified for a specific purpose and therefore 12 tried with regards to issues of liability 13 collectively, and then provisions may be 14 referred to separate trials on the others, and 15 that's expressly authorized in the class 16 certification rules. And that's the way it's 17 done even in the mass tort cases these days.
18 That's not a problem.

19 And 99 percent of those that I've ever 20 been involved in, which has been a dozen or so 21 now, are largely done by agreement. I mean, 22 the parties agree to what it is they're -- 23 they may have a little bit of a fight in front 24 of the court about which ones they're going to 25 try, they want these groups and this group,

1 but they go try a group with regards to the 2 liability issues, maybe the damages for a test
3 group, and then they're going to basically 4 apply those damages to everybody -- the 5 liability to everybody, and go try the damages 6 for everybody else later on down the line, or 7 sever, as you say. And that's generally the 8 way most of those cases have been progressing 9 and with not a great deal of difficulty.

10 And it's not just Iley vs. Hughes.
11 What's the case? Winters, Bill? Something 12 versus Winters. Anyway, that is the source of 13 the rule that says you can't separate 14 unliquidated damages, and that's true across 15 the board, contract cases, personal injury 16 cases at the appellate level, if you cannot 17 affirm liability, if you send it back to retry
18 unliquidated damages, it can't be done, you
19 know. And they just say because you can't 20 split causes of action you're not going to do 21 that. And we differ with the Fifth Circuit in 22 terms of how we handle that and whether or not 23 there's a constitutional justification.

24 It may be Sweeney vs. Hughes. Anyway,
25 the name is floating around. It's actually

1 cited in our current rulebook as a Texas
2 Supreme Court case for the issue of you can't 3 reverse and remand unliquidated damages for 4 retrial on that issue alone in a case where 5 liability is contested.

6 One of the concerns that I have with this 7 separate trial notion is that there is no 8 question that everybody is going to argue that 9 what you try separately is some species of an 10 affirmative defense that you're going to carve 11 out, whether it be limitations, whether it be 12 a release. If they've gotten a release from 13 somebody and they want to try the release
14 issue first before they try anything else, 15 after they try that issue, if they happen to 16 win that issue in the abstract, it's crystal 17 clear that they're position is going to be 18 "Okay. Well, we don't need to talk about the 19 rest of it then, so let's go home."

20 That is their interest of economy, so
21 that their interest of economy means that if I 22 get to try my part of the lawsuit first and I 23 win it, then you don't get to even try your 24 part of the lawsuit, nor does the appellate 25 court get to see any of it. And that's what's

1 wrong with this notion that this is something 2 we should be doing in the interest of economy, 3 because I think it is merely masquerading as 4 an effort to gain a tactical advantage with 5 regards to trying a particular aspect of the 6 case at the selection of one or more of the 7 defendants. I wish I didn't perceive it that 8 way, but that is the way it is perceived.

9 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay.

10 Richard Orsinger.

11 MR. ORSINGER: To me, this is 12 one of the changes of greatest magnitude that 13 we've ever been asked to face in three years 14 of being on this Committee, and I believe that 15 it will change the whole nature of the way we 16 have litigated lawsuits since we became a 17 state. And the only rationale that I've seen 18 on the table right now is the large mass tort 19 litigation which there appears to be a need 20 for us to create an exception for that.

21 But the need to create an exception for 22 the mass tort litigation does not mean that we 23 should go back and say that a specific 24 district judge can try a waiver issue or some 25 kind of defense before we even try the case in

1 chief and then as a result of that jury
2 verdict say there's no necessity for us to try 3 the fundamental claim because the affirmative
4 defense has already been established. There
5 is some logic in that, but that isn't the way 6 we've tried cases here for 150 years. And 7 it's just astounding to me that we might make 8 this change, which I think goes to the very 9 core of the way we litigate cases, when the 10 announced justification is to handle the mass 11 torts where they do have this need, which can 12 be addressed through a specific rule. So to 13 me, this is an amazing proposal.

14 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Anything
15 else? Justice Guittard.

16 HON. C. A. GUITTARD: Why
17 couldn't we solve the problem by adding to 18 174(b) the provision that's in the rules, the 19 Appellate Rules and so forth, that provides 20 there is no separate trial of liability and 21 unliquidated damages if liability is 22 contested? Why don't we just put that in 23 there? That would be consistent with our 24 present rule, and otherwise it would be up to 25 the judge.

1 Incidentally, it's interesting to think 2 about the -- to consider the origin of that 3 prohibition. I think when I was working for 4 the Supreme Court some years ago, a case came 5 up that involved that question and whether the 6 Supreme Court should remand the case for trial
7 of damages only. And there was a discussion 8 among the judges to which I was allowed to 9 observe at that time because of my employment, 10 and Judge Kreis, I believe, said, "Well, we 11 can't let them have a separate trial on 12 damages and liability because everybody knows 13 that in these special issues the jury trades 14 on their answers, so a juror probably wouldn't 15 vote to give any damages if he wasn't induced 16 to do so because he gave up on some other 17 issue." And whether that is salutary approach 18 to the administration of justice, I don't 19 know, but that's the sort of thinking behind 20 some of this. So I would propose that 21 Rule 174(b) be amended to add that provision.

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, that's 23 really -- it seems to me like that's the only 24 change that we're making to the present law 25 other than articulating present law. Separate

1 trials, we don't have any limitations on when 2 they can come under 174(b)(b). Just say
3 conducive to expedition and economy and so 4 forth, in furtherance of convenience or to 5 avoid prejudice. That's about as big a
6 universe of reasons that somebody could come 7 up with.

8 HON. C. A. GUITTARD: That's 9 just a specific instance of avoiding 10 prejudice.

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Iley vs.
12 Hughes clearly is an issue. Same jury is now 13 open. You can do it with or do it without the 14 same jury. Prerequisite issues, you can do it 15 or not do it, if you want to, as long as it's 16 not an Iley vs. Hughes issue. I mean, that's 17 what we're really boiling this thing down to.
18 Once we get past Iley vs. Hughes, I guess the 19 rest of it probably gets a lot easier.

20 MR. MARKS: That's the point of 21 this, isn't it?

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: How many of 23 you think we ought to change Iley vs. Hughes?

24 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: Well,
25 separate trial or bifurcation?

1 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Separate
2 trial to a different jury.

3 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: Okay.
4 I mean, I don't want to say I can never do
5 it. I can imagine -- I mean, it's perhaps -- 6 the pressure is coming from mass tort cases,
7 but you know, I've had cases -- you know, you 8 have a medical malpractice case, just a 9 run-of-the-mill malpractice case, but it's 10 going to take $50,000 to prepare it, X months, 11 and the defendant wasn't served until two 12 years and six months. Why wasn't he served?
13 Well, because they weren't diligent, says the 14 defendant. "Well, I didn't call for three 15 months to find out about it, but then I did 16 call." We're going to have a big question on 17 whether due diligence was used. I'm going to 18 spend $50,000 if I can't bifurcate out in a 19 particular case when I think it's going to 20 be -- I'm not going to -- I don't like to try 21 cases twice.

22 I don't know who these judges are that 23 like to try things in bits over and over. I 24 like to get them and get rid of them, but if 25 I'm staring at something that's obvious that

1 summary judgment doesn't cover, there's going 2 to be discretionary situations where everybody
3 can be saved time and money. And I don't 4 really care whether it's a plaintiff's or 5 defendant's issue. It could be a plaintiff's 6 issue on just suing to enforce our release or 7 whatever it is. I'm just talking about where 8 we have to go through all the discovery of 9 everything before we do anything.

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, I don't 11 think Iley vs. Hughes precludes you from 12 trying limitations questions.

13 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: No.
14 That's what the cases have said so far.

15 MR. ORSINGER: Is this an 16 available procedure right now to try 17 affirmative defenses --

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Sure.

19 MR. ORSINGER: And there's no
20 prohibition against it?

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: There's no
22 prohibition against it, and it is done.

23 MR. ORSINGER: It is done?
24 Okay. I've never heard of it being done.

25 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: I

1 wouldn't mind inserting, if I could suggest to 2 Judge Guittard's proposal, that we make this 3 both a bifurcation and separate trial, because 4 it has been confused in the cases about which 5 it is we're talking about. Let's say that you 6 can order a bifurcation or a separate trial
7 for any of these things, except that you can't 8 order a separate trial of liability -- of 9 unliquidated damages where liability is 10 contested.

12 fine.

13 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Or a
14 bifurcation, I guess, under your terminology.

15 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: No, I
16 want to make that distinction. I can order a 17 bifurcation or separate trials, but if it's 18 liability and damages, I can't order a 19 separate trial; I can bifurcate it.

20 MR. McMains: Well, but Moriel
21 says what's to be in the first trial on the 22 bifurcated issue. And it says what's there is 23 liability and damages, liability for gross 24 negligence, for exemplary damages, and then 25 the second trial is only on the -- the second

1 bifurcated part is only on behalf of -- on the 2 amount of exemplary damages. There is no
3 authorization in Moriel to say that you get to 4 trial four bifurcated trials, one on 5 liability, one on damages, one on gross 6 negligence and another on --

7 MR. MARKS: That's a mandatory
8 provision, though, and we're talking about --

9 MR. McMANS: That's not a 10 mandatory provision.

11 MR. MARKS: We're talking
12 about --

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Just a 14 minute.

15 MR. MARKS: -- giving the court
16 discretion to bifurcate or give separate 17 trials when it appears appropriate to do so, 18 and I don't see any problem with that.

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, let's 20 just focus on what seems to be the real 21 tension here. A judge is trying to deal with 22 mass torts, is one piece of the tension, and 23 the question is, is the product unreasonably 24 dangerous. That's the liability finding. And 25 that can take weeks to try in breast implant

1 litigation or whatever the situation may be.
2 Can a judge try that separately? Not now
3 under Iley vs. Hughes, although apparently 4 some judges are doing it. Now, if that can be 5 tried to a jury that's not going to hear 6 damages, then maybe the jury never hears about 7 the quadriplegic, a quadriplegic damaged by a 8 product, obviously not -- well, maybe a breast 9 implant, but some product. So now you've got 10 a jury that doesn't know the damages, doesn't 11 know the consequences, trying liability, when 12 the consequences may be indicative of whether 13 there should be liability. It's possible.

14 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: I'd be 15 willing to say you don't have two different 16 juries hearing liability and damages.

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: All right.
18 But then you get to the problem of the judge 19 tries a hundred cases on a product
20 unreasonably dangerous. The caption takes 21 three pages to type it out, five or 10. Now 22 he's going to go to damages. Is that jury 23 going to have to sit through it there and hear 24 the damage proof for 100 individuals? That's 25 a problem. I'm not arguing with that. There

1 we've set up one set of circumstances where 2 the system has got a problem in those kinds of 3 cases.

4 But the other problem is, it is highly 5 prejudicial to plaintiffs to get there and in 6 many cases to have the liability issues 7 isolated from the damages and to have to go to 8 a jury in those circumstances. There is real 9 tension here.

10 MR. MARKS: Why is that 11 prejudicial?

12 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Because the 13 consequences of the product may bear on its 14 danger.

15 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: It's 16 not supposed to, but I will recognize that 17 sometimes it's done.

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, maybe
19 theoretically, but in the real world --

20 MR. MARKS: Only because that's 21 the way our procedure is, but if the court --

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. Debate
23 that. Maybe I'm wrong, but I don't think I'm 24 wrong. I think I'm right. But there is where 25 the tension is. Is there any way for us to 1 ease that tension?

2 MR. McMAINS: It's not just 3 that, Luke.

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Then give me
5 some more.

6 MR. McMAINS: Because under our 7 rules, the person who has the burden of proof 8 has the right to go first. Now, if you're 9 going to order a separate trial with regards 10 to any of the affirmative defenses in the 11 abstract, then basically you've just 12 completely restructured the lawsuit like it 13 was a dec action filed by the defendant, and 14 that they are then -- they're going to become 15 the plaintiff with regards to taking 16 affirmatively the position, and they will 17 structure the entire nature of the trial, 18 because the only issue involved is the 19 liability issue that would preclude them ever 20 having to go any further. And what it means 21 is, if you guarantee that at no time do you 22 have any kind of a result that could be 23 determinative of the litigation, other than in 24 favor of the defendant basically until you get 25 to the very end where the defendant has lost

1 all of these things, you've got to have all of 2 these kind of hoops to jump through. And if 3 you lose any one of them, which may have been 4 wrongly submitted, may have been something 5 else, but you don't have a damages finding, 6 you don't have the issues.

7 Even if you have unliquidated damages,
8 you never kind of get there. You may not have 9 any basis whatsoever to go to the appellate 10 court and seek any kind of relief other than 11 for "Let's go have the trial that I was denied 12 the first time" on any of these issues. And 13 you've got four or five hoops to overcome in 14 order to do that.

15 The thing is, I mean, basically all this 16 is is an effort to say, okay, I want to try 17 this defense first, and they want a number of 18 free shots in terms of trial in which the only 19 issue is an affirmative defense. That really 20 is what this is about, and that is a partisan
21 issue.

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Iley vs.
23 Hughes doesn't prevent that.

24 MR. ORSINGER: Why not? Aren't 25 you trying liability without damages if you

1 try an affirmative defense? Isn't that a 2 liability question?

3 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: What 4 Rusty just said is what courts have been 5 saying is okay under the current rule for 6 decades. Bill of review -- I've listed the 7 cases there on limitations, bill of review.

8 At the same time, I bet you under the 9 current rule all of the appellate courts would 10 say we don't have a separate trial for sole 11 proximate causes first either. But this is 12 getting into the details of, okay, which ones 13 are you going to allow it on and which ones
14 are you not. And I think we would all 15 probably agree on that, but it would take 16 forever to draw up those 200 on either side 17 that we are and aren't going to allow.

18 The key question, my concern is the 19 six-month long trial, can I break it into 20 manageable bits? To me, there is no logical 21 reason, if it's the same jury and you voir
22 dire and opening statement on as much as you 23 want about how terrible this all was and 24 everything else, you know, to me, there's no 25 reason we shouldn't break that up into some

1 manageable bits. Everybody is doing it.

2 I mean, you know, this is that thing
3 about interim arguments. People are even 4 breaking these up in many states without 5 bifurcating any of the trial, just allowing 6 the jury to deliberate, allowing the lawyers 7 to argue in the middle of liability, in the 8 middle of all this stuff, because in a 9 multi-month trial there's just a lot of stuff.

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I'll give you
11 an example of the prejudice in this. I want 12 to hear enough talk about this because I want 13 to be damn sure we do everything in a balanced 14 way.

15 The doctor says, "I only gave the right 16 amount of medicine." The fact is, the doctor 17 gave the baby an injection, and the baby has a 18 fried brain in 15 seconds. So the doc is 19 saying, "I didn't do that," and the best 20 evidence that he did is the injury to the 21 child. Are you going to bifurcate?

22 MR. MARKS: Well, wouldn't that 23 be a reason to try the two things together?

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Yeah. But 25 what if some judge says, "No, we're not.

1 We're going to let the doc and his nurses and 2 his room full of people get up there and say
3 they didn't do it. And maybe somebody says 4 they did, some expert says they did, but we're 5 going to find out whether he did or didn't 6 before we show this jury the terrible 7 consequences to the baby."

8 MR. MARKS: So you argue that 9 because the judge may abuse the discretion
10 that he has, you shouldn't do it. Well, then 11 we should never have any discretion in the 12 judge. And the judge has got discretion to do 13 separate trials on a lot of different issues.
14 Now, why should it be different on this?
15 Because there are a lot of different reasons 16 why liability and damages in a personal injury 17 situation should be separated.

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, we can 19 debate them, but these are issues and 20 consequences about what we're doing.

21 MR. MARKS: Well, that's right, 22 Luke. But what we've been hearing mostly is 23 what Rusty is saying, and there is prejudice 24 on the other side.

25 For example, if you have a case where

1 there is virtually no liability and the thing 2 that gives it value is the damage to the 3 plaintiff, that's tremendous prejudice to the 4 defendant for not being able to try those two 5 things separately.

6 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I
7 understand. I'm not taking sides on this. I 8 just want to be sure that we debate this.

9 MR. MARKS: Well, I'm just 10 saying that if you give this discretion to the 11 court under the general, you know, idea that 12 if they abuse that discretion they can be 13 reversed, then what else can you do? And this 14 is the only single area where we have a
15 problem.

17 Dorsaneo.

18 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Well, it
19 seems to me historically that we copied our 20 rule pretty much from the 1937 version of the 21 federal rule in the context of a culture that 22 probably did not understand what was being 23 embraced with respect to what could be divided 24 up and tried separately. Of course, that's 25 speculation about whether that original

1 committee or court understood that issues
2 meant, you know, something much smaller than 3 causes of action.

4 But beyond that, we have two other rules 5 that deal with this same subject, one that is 6 now in the appellate rulebook, and that one is 7 in our civil procedure rulebook as Rule 320.
8 And there's a separate limiting requirement in 9 there, without unfairness to the parties.

10 Now, I'm becoming convinced by what Judge 11 Brister is saying that this is a good way to 12 conduct business as long as it can be done
13 without unfairness to the parties. And I
14 heard him say earlier that since it's the same 15 jury, then the jury will have heard about the 16 damages during the selection process and they 17 maybe don't need to hear about that during the 18 liability, during the first trial, which 19 presumably will be about some aspect of 20 liability.

21 Now, I'm getting ready to kind of maybe 22 give this serious consideration, but I would 23 want to see not only expedition and economy in 24 there, but I would want to see this other 25 limiting thing, without unfairness to the

1 parties, so somebody could argue in a proper 2 case that, no, you really can't try the 3 liability issue in this case fairly unless the 4 evidence comes in. Maybe it's an evidence
5 relevance question. Maybe these two things
6 ought to be tried together.

7 So my additional suggestion, I'm thinking
8 this bifurcation thing doesn't bother me so 9 much, same jury, but I sure as heck don't like 10 these cases that are spread out over long 11 periods of time. Boy, that seems to be a very 12 odd way to run a lawsuit.

13 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: Short 14 trials. You're preaching to the choir on 15 short trials. Nobody dislikes longer trials 16 more than me. But that's -- the idea is to 17 break it up into something manageable.

18 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: My 19 specific question would be, would you embrace 20 the "without unfairness to the parties"
21 standard in there?

22 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER:
23 Absolutely.

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Without 25 unfairness to any party?

1 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Yeah.

2 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: Sure.

3 I can make up all kinds of worse examples than 4 Rusty trotted out of stupid ways to try to -- 5 you know, try sole proximate cause first, you 6 know.

7 MR. McMAINS: Well, since 8 you're not entitled to submission of it, it's 9 kind of hard to do.

10 HON. SCOTT A. BRISTER: Well,
11 okay. Whatever.

12 CHAIRMAN SOULES: We need to 13 take a break. I've got five minutes to 4:00.
14 Is that what you all have? Okay. Be back at 15 10 after, and we're going to work until 5:30.

16 (Recess.)

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: All right.
18 I'm going to ask your indulgence on this in 19 the interest of getting on to Richard Orsinger 20 and Bill's reports, which we have been for 21 several meetings trying to work through, that 22 we noodle on this 174(b) problem until our 23 next meeting and get back to it and let 24 everybody try to collect their thoughts and 25 maybe organize their arguments and we'll come

1 back to it. I'm afraid that our time is such 2 that we need to get to Richard and Bill in 3 order for them to stay on track for resolution 4 of the issues they have before them.

5 Okay. Richard, why don't you go ahead
6 and start.

7 MR. ORSINGER: According to 8 your agenda, on the proposal of an offer of 9 judgment similar to or at least analogous to 10 Federal Rule 68, we do not have a product to 11 show you yet. The Court Rules Committee has 12 done back in 1990 a comprehensive version of 13 the rule, but the work product on that our 14 committee has not been able to lay their hands 15 on it. I think that Shelby Sharpe is probably 16 the one who is going to end up having it, so 17 I'm going to have to communicate with him.

18 We have correspondence that contains 19 suggestions about how their committee proposal 20 should be changed, but we don't actually have 21 the committee proposal, and it was our thought 22 that we would be better off looking and seeing 23 what the ultimate outcome of that committee's 24 suggestion was.

25 Now, Carl told me this morning that it

1 was so controversial that the rule was 2 scotched even by the Court Rules Committee,
3 right?

4 MR. HAMILTON: Right.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: In '90 or 6 more recently?

7 MR. HAMILTON: More recently,
8 like last year.

9 MR. ORSINGER: Like last year.
10 Okay. Well, then maybe you have a more recent 11 version than the one that I've seen evidence 12 of.

13 MR. HAMILTON: Yeah, I bet we 14 do. I think Shelby drafted something either 15 at the last of last year or the beginning of 16 this year, the last of last year, I guess, 17 that was whittled down.

18 MR. ORSINGER: Well, it's our 19 committee's view that we shouldn't just adopt 20 the federal rule as is, because it would bring 21 with it all the federal case law. I don't 22 know what the particulars were of why the 23 other committee's product never came to 24 fruition, but we would like to look at it and 25 work from it, so we don't have anything to

1 report to this meeting on that one.

2 The next item on the agenda for this
3 meeting relates to our materials, Pages 276
4 through 293. And Pages 281 through 293 all 5 relate to discovery and --

6 CHAIRMAN SOULES: In Agenda
7 Volume 1?

8 MR. ORSINGER: Yeah. So there
9 may be a typo, or we may just need to clarify.

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Richard, help
11 get me where you are.

12 MR. ORSINGER: I am looking at 13 the letter sent out for this meeting, the 14 agenda, paragraph 7(b), which is Pages 276
15 through 293 of the original agenda materials.

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: 276?

17 MR. ORSINGER: 276 through 18 293. Now, 277 is on Rule 21a about service to 19 the party's last known address, and Page 278
20 is Rule 165a. Both of these have been talked 21 about at this Committee having to do with 22 DWOPs which are done administratively rather 23 than as a result of the failure to appear at a 24 docket conference.

25 Starting with 280, 280 is Hadley Edgar's

1 proposal that we change the word "judgment" to 2 "order of dismissal" in the DWOP rule. We've 3 talked about that before. That's the first 4 item in our disposition table that I want to 5 clarify today.

6 And then from 281 on relates to 7 discovery, as far as I can see, and there is 8 nothing that my committee would have 9 responsibility for. 281 on is just a letter 10 from Brent Keis in Fort Worth, county court at 11 law judge, enclosing his article about the 12 discovery process and how it went awry, so 13 he's clearly put a finger on a problem.

14 CHAIRMAN SOULES: His quick
15 medicine fix is there is one action the courts 16 and the bar can take to diminish the disease:
17 Attorneys should seek and judges should assign 18 cases to mediation prior, underscore prior, to 19 discovery.

20 HON. C. A. GUITTARD: And then 21 the parties come in with "We can't decide how 22 much this case is worth until we have 23 discovery on it."

24 MR. ORSINGER: The obvious
25 answer to that is nobody is ready to settle

1 before they know what their case is like.

2 Well, at any rate, it's really not part 3 of our agenda here, so what I would like to 4 do, then, is move on to paragraph (c), and 5 that refers us to the agenda to Page 437 and 6 436. I don't know if that's a typo or not,
7 and I couldn't figure out what it was supposed 8 to be, but this appears to be a letter 9 relating to mandatory mediation, if it's 10 Rules 434 through 436. It's a letter from one 11 man, Robert Martin, Jr., in Dallas, '91, and 12 the sum total of what he has to say is that we 13 ought to have mandatory mediation, as I see 14 it.

15 MR. McMAINS: Is he still 16 alive?

17 MR. MARKS: Are you following
18 the agenda?

19 MR. ORSINGER: Well, "the 20 agenda" is used in multiple purposes here.

21 MR. MARKS: Well, item (c) is 22 Rule 76(a), and you're saying that has to do 23 with mediation?

24 MR. ORSINGER: Well, Pages 437
25 through 436 do. Now, Holly, pages what

1 through what?

2 MS. DUDERSTADT: 437 through 3 447.

4 MR. ORSINGER: 447. Okay. 437
5 relates to a letter on Page 438 in which Judge 6 Scott McCown thinks we need to special rule of 7 evidence regarding grand jury testimony, which 8 would not be a responsibility of our committee 9 here. And then 439 through through 447 is an 10 enclosure which is an order that Judge McCown 11 signed in a case involving discovery --

12 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, he's 13 saying he is concerned about whether 76a
14 applies to grand jury testimony. Is 76a
15 outside your bailiwick?

16 MR. ORSINGER: No. It's in it.

17 MS. DUDERSTADT: Alex Albright
18 indicated that 76a was yours.

19 MR. ORSINGER: It is.

20 MS. DUDERSTADT: So we referred 21 it from her committee to your committee.

22 MR. ORSINGER: Alex is on my 23 committee. So Alex, that isn't going to work.

24 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Well,
25 maybe we could find some other committee to 1 give it to.

2 MR. ORSINGER: Okay. Well,
3 then I'll have to say that we did not discuss 4 this proposal from the standpoint of how it
5 ought to impact on 76a, because I comprehended 6 this to be a request that we consider creating 7 a privilege for grand jury testimony.

8 I interpreted this to mean that we have a 9 rule of criminal procedure, a statute, a 10 federal statute that governs the disclosure of 11 grand jury testimony. And he's suggesting 12 that we need a state rule. Now, to me that's 13 not a 76a problem; to me that's an evidentiary
14 privilege problem. You don't even get to a 15 76a publication to the world unless you get 16 ahold of the grand jury testimony to begin 17 with, and I thought the thrust of this was 18 to -- but at any rate --

19 MR. BABCOCK: Luke, there are 20 two situations that might be at work here.
21 One, in federal court, if you want grand jury 22 testimony, there's a procedure whereby you go 23 get it.

24 MR. ORSINGER: Okay.

25 MR. BABCOCK: I don't think

1 there's anything comparable in our state
2 practice that's comparable to that federal 3 practice. Now, we could create a new rule or 4 we could tack on to 76a some procedure to get 5 grand jury testimony, I suppose, if we thought 6 that was a good idea.

7 The other situation that maybe he's 8 talking about is if some civil litigant has 9 somehow come into possession of grand jury 10 testimony and it's being asked for in 11 discovery, then 76a might be implicated. But 12 I don't think that there's anything 13 particularly peculiar about the way 76a is 14 written now that would call for us to change 15 the rule in response to that.

16 MR. ORSINGER: Okay. So in 17 that context, I guess what Scott's proposal is 18 is that if there is an instance in which the 19 closure of the grand jury testimony is 20 penetrated in a lawsuit, should we be sure 21 that it doesn't get promulgated as a public 22 record through 76a? I did not cover that.

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: In the 24 wrongful termination case of Therese
25 Huntzinger, she is saying she got fired

1 because she was too vigorous as an assistant 2 district attorney in pursuing a case. The 3 grand jury testimony was germane in showing 4 her tenacity and the reason she got fired.
5 The court entered a protective order allowing 6 her to have the grand jury testimony from the 7 county, and the district attorney put 8 constraints on it for purposes of only the 9 lawsuit. It says two copies shall be made, 10 all copies returned, which revives motion of 11 San Antonio Light who seeks access to these 12 documents pursuant to 76a. That's how 76a
13 gets into it.

14 And then Scott McCown goes through a 76a
15 analysis and says that 76a is not implicated 16 in that protective order, and so they don't 17 get it. I don't know.

18 MR. ORSINGER: I guess in that 19 light, what Scott McCown is saying is that 20 perhaps 76a should be altered to somehow treat 21 grand jury testimony differently from other 22 court records, if in fact they are court
23 records, meaning that they are acquired 24 through discovery.

25 MR. BABCOCK: Well, the only

1 way they would be court records is if it's 2 unfiled discovery and it relates to official
3 conduct of a government official or public 4 safety and welfare.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: And he says
6 these are outside of 76a because they are 7 documents and court files to which access is 8 otherwise restricted by 20.02 of the Code of 9 Criminal Procedure and so forth.

10 I don't want to spend too much time on 11 this, but what he says is we need a rule 12 regarding when and how grand jury testimony is 13 disclosed. I guess he had a real struggle 14 with whether to order the county to give up --

15 MR. ORSINGER: No. I think 16 that these records were produced in discovery 17 by the plaintiff, and the question is whether 18 the newspaper could get the grand jury
19 testimony or not. And he ruled that 76a did 20 not require divulgence to the newspaper.

21 MR. BABCOCK: But the other
22 issue is whether or not there ought to be a 23 rule that governs the disclosure of grand jury 24 testimony for whatever standard or whatever
25 reasons you may want. That's not a 76a

1 problem.

2 MR. ORSINGER: Well, according 3 to his order, there is a Code of Criminal 4 Procedure provision that the courts have 5 engrafted exceptions on are not explicitly 6 stated in the statute. So you have an 7 unqualified privilege. Then you have court-
8 created exceptions. Then you have a publicity 9 rule that might mean that the court-created 10 exceptions result in otherwise secret
11 proceedings becoming public information.

12 CHAIRMAN SOULES: All right.
13 Well, he doesn't propose -- do we want to 14 write a rule or attempt to write a rule 15 engrafted onto 76a or something separate that 16 would deal with how grand jury testimony, once 17 injected into a civil case, may be dealt 18 with? Chip Babcock.

19 MR. BABCOCK: Has this problem
20 ever come up before other than in this one 21 instance?

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Not to my 23 knowledge. I'm learning something as I read 24 this that's rather interesting.

25 MR. ORSINGER: Apparently this

1 didn't migrate to an appellate court.

2 MR. BABCOCK: My vote is let it
3 go case by case. If it becomes a big problem, 4 then write a rule.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Does anybody
6 disagree with that? Okay. That will be the 7 resolution of item (c). What was the 8 resolution of item (a)?

9 MR. ORSINGER: The resolution
10 of item (a), Luke, is that our committee 11 wanted to build on the work product of the 12 committees that have visited it before, and we 13 haven't been able to lay our hands on it.

14 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. We'll 15 reassign it for next time.

16 And 165a, what was the resolution on 17 that, item (b), 7(b)? It went by so fast.

18 MR. ORSINGER: Okay. I'll tell
19 you, we have visited all of those before.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: All dealt 21 with before on the record, right?

22 MR. ORSINGER: Yes. But there 23 is still a lingering issue about 165a that has 24 to do with the writing of a rule to handle 25 DWOPs that are part of an administrative

1 procedure of methodically dismissing, and our 2 committee hasn't finalized a rule to report
3 yet on how to do that. We're not ignoring it, 4 but we've just been dealing with the venue 5 problem and have never seemed to have gotten 6 to this issue. So that's still a pending
7 issue which our committee, full Committee, has 8 voted, I believe, to require sufficient notice 9 before a dismissal for want of prosecution
10 that would allow someone to get a trial
11 setting. I believe we voted to give at least 12 45 days' notice, not on a failure to appear at 13 a regularly called case, but when you have an 14 administratively generated DWOP setting. We 15 haven't written that rule yet.

16 The next page is Hadley Edgar's proposal
17 that in the DWOP rule we take the word 18 "judgment" and substitute for that the words
19 "order of dismissal."

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: And we've 21 dealt with that?

22 MR. ORSINGER: We dealt with 23 that last time and agreed to go with "order of 24 dismissal," but there was a large discussion 25 about the fact that the DWOP rule and order of 1 dismissal is not the equivalent of a judgment,

2 which is why we want to get away from the use
3 of the word "judgment" and make the word 4 consistently "order of dismissal."

5 Bill Dorsaneo stated into the record, I
6 believe, two concerns. One is, can a motion
7 to reinstate be overruled by operation of law 8 and should it be; and secondly, what is the 9 effect on plenary power.

10 Now, it's the subcommittee's view that 11 under the current language of Rule 165a,
12 subdivision (3), third paragraph, which reads, 13 "In the event for any reason a motion for 14 reinstatement is not decided by signed written 15 order within 75 days after the judgment is 16 signed, or within such other time as may be 17 allowed by Rule 306a, the motion shall be 18 deemed overruled by operation of law," now, if 19 it's overruled by operation of law, does it 20 preserve the point for appellate complaint or 21 not?

22 I pose that question because there 23 appeared to be some uncertainty, but our 24 subcommittee didn't have the answer to that,
25 and I don't know if you do, Bill.

1 Furthermore, David Beck, although the 2 subcommittee did not vote this, David Beck
3 wanted to put up for discussion at this full 4 Committee meeting that presentment of a motion
5 to reinstate should be required. So he asked 6 me to bring that to the table.

7 And then if you read on in that third
8 paragraph, "If a motion to reinstate is timely 9 filed by any party, the trial court, 10 regardless of whether an appeal has been 11 perfected, has plenary power to reinstate
12 until 30 days after all the timely filed 13 motions are overruled, either by writing a 14 signed order, or by operation of law,
15 whichever occurs first," the current rule 16 seems to say that it can be overruled by 17 operation of law and that it does extend 18 plenary power.

19 It doesn't tell you, though, whether 20 overruling by operation of law preserves the 21 point on appeal or not. David Beck wants the 22 rule to specify that operation of law is not 23 sufficient to preserve for appeal; that you 24 should be required to make a presentment of 25 your proof. That's where we are on that.

1 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, my 2 suggestion is we don't go back to that. We 3 spent a long time debating that when this rule 4 first came in and there were a lot of reasons 5 for doing it this way. Unless somebody has 6 really got a strong reason for doing it the 7 other way, I don't think we ought to go back
8 to it. I can give you all the reasons, if you
9 want them, but unless somebody objects, I 10 don't think we ought to change that. Does 11 anybody object?

12 Okay. And if it needs to be clarified
13 that it preserves error, then we'll say so, 14 that it does.

15 MR. ORSINGER: I would like to 16 defer to a procedure professor here. Are 17 there cases saying that overruling a motion to 18 reinstate by operation of law does not 19 preserve the point for appeal?

20 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Yes.

21 MR. ORSINGER: Okay. Then we 22 may need to write something here if we do not 23 want presentment to be required.

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That was the 25 intent of this, that it would preserve it.

1 MR. ORSINGER: Then if there
2 are cases that say that it doesn't, then 3 perhaps we better specify that it does.

4 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Well, to 5 be a little more accurate, there is a Shamrock
6 case written by the Dallas court -- Judge 7 Guittard, I believe, wrote the opinion -- and 8 it's actually a Craddock motion case, which I 9 would consider to be the equivalent of a 10 motion to reinstate a case dismissed for want 11 of prosecution, because the standard is 12 essentially the same in terms of the showing 13 that you would make. And Judge Guittard's 14 opinion, I think, reasonably says that that 15 needs to be presented before you could 16 establish that there's an abuse of discretion 17 in not granting the motion.

18 In Cecil vs. Smith, the Supreme Court
19 case says that overruling by operation of law 20 of a motion for new trial containing 21 evidentiary sufficiency points preserves those 22 complaints, you know, overruling Paul Colley's
23 opinion out of the Tyler court that strongly 24 suggested in footnote that if the motion would 25 require the presentation of evidence, then

1 overruling by operation of law is inadequate.

2 The San Antonio court a couple of weeks
3 ago in a case that I think is called Norton
4 vs. Martinez, but I'm not completely sure that 5 that is the order of the names, actually held 6 in a case where there was an overruling by 7 operation of law of a motion to reinstate
8 that -- or a Craddock motion, I may be running 9 the two together -- that that was just a fine 10 way to preserve the complaint and reverse the 11 trial judge for not granting the motion that 12 was overruled by operation of law without 13 mention of either Cecil vs. Smith or the 14 Shamrock precedent. So I guess that's really 15 about the size of it.

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, the 17 trade-off that was here was there was a strong 18 sentiment that this motion should be deemed 19 granted if you couldn't get a judge to hear 20 you, and you couldn't get a lot of judges to 21 hear you. If you filed a motion to reinstate, 22 you couldn't get to court, so the presentment 23 was impossible. And the trade-off that this 24 Committee and the Supreme Court bought off on 25 was that it would be deemed overruled as a

1 matter of law, so then at least what you 2 raised in your motion to reinstate could be 3 reviewed by an appellate court rather than 4 having a sweeping number of cases go back on 5 the docket by deeming the motion granted.
6 That was the reason for it. This was 7 certainly set up here for purposes of getting 8 the 165a motion before some court.

9 MR. ORSINGER: Well, I would 10 point out that the first paragraph of 165a, 11 paragraph (3), requires the court to grant a
12 hearing.

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's right.

14 MR. ORSINGER: But if they 15 don't, you don't want them to be able to like 16 pocket veto the motion so that it's not 17 subject to appellate review.

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: And that's 19 what was going on when this 165a was written, 20 because that was a huge problem. Judges were 21 dismissing for want of prosecution by posting 22 notices on the courthouse door of 150, as many 23 as they wanted to, and people didn't even 24 know. They woke up later on and found out 25 their case was gone. Then you've got 301 and 1 all that stuff, 306a, and all this stuff.

2 You've got to jump through the hoops to get 3 your case tried. It's terrible. Malpractice
4 cases, implication --

5 MR. ORSINGER: Well, in light
6 of the argument that Bill has raised, then 7 perhaps we should add a sentence in here that 8 makes it clear that if there is no order 9 overruling the motion, that a point is 10 preserved when it's overruled by operation of 11 law.

12 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Actually 13 in the Appellate Rules now too we have in what 14 was 52, which I guess now is 33, a 15 codification of Cecil vs. Smith and the 16 interpretation that I just gave to it.

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I suggest
18 that we just do this, Richard: Where it says 19 "shall be deemed overruled by operation of 20 law," say "shall be deemed to be a motion for 21 new trial overruled by operation of law." And 22 then if we don't have motion for new trial in 23 the Appellate Rules or this thing in the 24 Appellate Rules, that will carry us into the 25 Appellate Rules.

1 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: That gets 2 you into more trouble, though, Luke. I think 3 it would be almost better to say that if it's 4 not ruled upon, if the judge doesn't rule upon 5 it in 75 days, then it's almost deemed 6 granted.

7 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, we 8 can't do that.

9 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Why not?
10 We deemed affidavits of indigents, or whatever 11 they used to be called, they were granted if 12 you didn't overrule them.

13 MR. ORSINGER: But the bulk of 14 these are going to be ignored probably, and 15 probably mercifully so. I mean, a lot of 16 people are going to have a gut reaction of 17 filing a motion to reinstate and then just 18 kind of let it go and not appeal it. So if 19 you automatically reinstate it, then all of a 20 sudden the case is back on the docket.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That was the 22 argument.

23 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: We ought 24 to spell it out that this is different,
25 because it doesn't look different. Until I

1 heard your explanation, I had forgotten all of 2 that discussion.

3 HON. C. A. GUITTARD: But if 4 the motion requires presentation of evidence, 5 it ought not to be overruled by operation of 6 law, should it?

7 MR. ORSINGER: Well, it's 8 currently overruled by operation of law under 9 the present language of the rule, but that 10 doesn't necessarily mean that the point is 11 preserved for appeal.

12 HON. SARAH DUNCAN: It seems to 13 me we need to distinguish between preservation 14 at the point of error and establishing error.
15 I do have difficulty understanding and I would 16 ask for guidance, I don't know what the law
17 is, but get out of the motion to reinstate 18 context.

19 If I have a motion for new trial and one 20 of my points is juror misconduct and I attach 21 affidavits from jurors establishing 22 conclusively juror misconduct and I file that 23 with the district clerk but I never bring it 24 to the attention of the trial judge, okay,
25 fine, I preserve my point of error. But can I

1 establish an abuse of discretion in denying my 2 motion for new trial? Surely not.

3 MR. McMAINS: I'm not even sure
4 you've preserved it in that sense.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, spell
6 it out. That seems to be the only glitch in 7 the rule. And if we can spell that out, then 8 obviously it doesn't establish error, but it's 9 going to preserve error.

10 MR. ORSINGER: Well, you could 11 just say where it says, "The motion shall be 12 deemed overruled by the operation of law and 13 the appellate point preserved," or some words
14 to that effect. Stick it right onto the end 15 of that sentence or something like that.

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Fine with 17 me.

18 HON. C. A. GUITTARD: Now, we 19 do have provisions as to when motions for new 20 trial are required. Those are the cases that 21 the trial court has not ruled on before the 22 motion is filed. For instance, if a ground is 23 an exclusion of evidence, well, the trial 24 court has already made a record on that. If 25 it's something like newly discovered evidence

1 or perhaps jury misconduct, that has to be 2 ruled on in some way before error is made or 3 error is preserved, it seems like to me.

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: If you can 5 get a judge to hear it.

6 HON. C. A. GUITTARD: Well,
7 mandamus him.

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Too late. He 9 lost plenary power before you can mandamus
10 him.

11 MR. ORSINGER: Well, then your 12 point of error on appeal was that you refused 13 to give me a hearing, and then you have to 14 rely on your affidavits to prove the 15 harmfulness of the error. That is your 16 typical remedy when you don't get a hearing 17 even on a motion for new trial that requires 18 that.

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay.

20 MR. ORSINGER: I need to 21 correct this, so we'll go forward with that,
22 but I'm looking at my main disposition table
23 here, and I will have to say that I didn't 24 recollect this, but apparently at our January 25 meeting the full Committee rejected the

1 proposal that we give 45 days' minimum notice
2 of the DWOP. That was not what I recollected, 3 but that's in my disposition table, so 4 therefore I must have a faulty memory on that.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's 6 right. What your notes say is wrong.

7 MR. ORSINGER: Okay. Then I
8 stand corrected on my earlier statement. So 9 having said those things, I believe we have 10 addressed the matters that were raised by 11 Howard Hasting's letter and by Hadley Edgar's 12 letter.

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: What we 14 decided to do was let the 165a process work 15 internally by getting back on the docket, not 16 having somebody scramble to get a trial
17 setting by having 45 days' notice.

18 MR. ORSINGER: Okay.

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: So we're 20 going to have 165a up again, 68 up again, and 21 76a is concluded. Okay. Now, (d).

22 MR. ORSINGER: Okay. Now, (d)
23 is a project that we have not completed
24 pending a receipt from Lee of the Appellate 25 Rules. Justice Guittard and I have talked

1 through a strategy on this, and Justice
2 Guittard has submitted quite a number of 3 proposed General Rules that would unify 4 language in both the Appellate Rules and the 5 Trial Rules, and we have previously as the 6 full Committee voted to reject them because 7 the Appellate Rules have gone final. And so
8 now that kind of leaves us in the situation 9 that we need to match the Trial Rules with the 10 Appellate Rules, and if there is a significant 11 disparity, we either call it to the attention 12 of the Supreme Court after the horse is out of 13 the barn, or we amend the Trial Rules to 14 comport with the Appellate Rules.

15 Now, that comparison hasn't been made,
16 but I can do that probably by the next meeting 17 assuming I get the rules within a couple of 18 weeks, which we'll have them within a couple 19 of weeks, won't we? Okay.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That will 21 come back then next time. (e).

22 MR. ORSINGER: Okay. On 23 item (e) we have what is called a Supplemental 24 Disposition Table which is this thin one
25 relating to Rules 15 through 165a. This is a

1 miniature table that I've created to handle 2 those matters that were called to our 3 attention. And what I've been doing as we 4 handle them is I fold them into our larger 5 disposition, so ultimately this document will 6 disappear, but we're working from it for this 7 afternoon.

8 The first item on there is Page 111 of 9 the agenda materials relating to Rule 18, 10 which is a rule without any explanation,
11 without any cover letter or anything, a 12 federal rule having to do with where a judge 13 has to be replaced after trial -- pardon me, 14 well, during trial, while the trial proceeding
15 is going on. And the rule apparently permits 16 a new trial judge to take over upon certifying 17 familiarity with the record and determining 18 that he can complete the trial without 19 prejudice to the parties. And in a non-jury 20 case, the successor judge can recall witnesses 21 and whatnot.

22 Now, we don't have a rule that's 23 identical to this, but we do have Rule of 24 Procedure 18 that has to do with when a judge 25 dies during term, resigns or is disabled, and

1 it permits generally the substituting of a new 2 judge for the old judge during term time
3 without any specific constraints on the judge 4 completing the trial or having to certify
5 having read the statement of facts or anything 6 of that nature.

7 Our subcommittee's view was that while 8 the federal rule covers a contingency that the 9 state rule does not specifically mention, we 10 haven't heard or read of any instances where 11 the state rule was inadequate and don't feel 12 that it's necessary to adopt the federal rule 13 to cover how you specifically handle the death 14 or replacement of the judge in the middle of a 15 trial proceeding.

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Your 17 committee recommends no change?

18 MR. ORSINGER: No change.

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Any 20 disagreement? No disagreement. The committee 21 will accept that.

22 Okay. 18a. Change administrative 23 judicial districts to AJRs.

24 MR. ORSINGER: Yes.

25 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Is there any

1 objection to that?

2 MR. ORSINGER: And we're in 3 favor of that because the statutes have been 4 changed and they're no longer called 5 administrative judicial districts.

6 CHAIRMAN SOULES: No objection.
7 That will be accepted.

8 MR. ORSINGER: The next item is 9 Page 115 of your agenda materials, 116. He 10 doesn't want the court to have to sign minutes 11 at the end of the term. We've eliminated that 12 rule already.

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay.

14 MR. ORSINGER: The next item is 15 Page 120 of the agenda, and that is another 16 one of the federal rules that's just put in 17 here to analyze, and that relates to Federal 18 Rule 5(d) which contains, I think, three 19 different subject matters, which is that you 20 have to have a certificate of service -- we 21 already have that requirement in the state
22 rules, so no change is necessary there.

23 5(e) permits facsimile transmission of 24 court pleadings and other papers if permitted 25 by district court local rules, and we have fax

1 filing rules that we have adopted in this 2 Committee and we have existing rules for 3 service on other lawyers by fax, so we feel 4 like we have already approved our existing 5 rules that cover this issue.

6 And then the third issue is a
7 specification of the clerk not being able to 8 refuse the filing of a paper because it's not 9 presented in proper form. It was our 10 subcommittee's view that there is no Texas
11 rule that permits a clerk to reject a filing 12 anyway and we don't need to put in a rule 13 there that prohibits them from rejecting it 14 because they're required to accept for 15 filing. There's no exception to permit a 16 rejection, and therefore we don't feel like we 17 need to write this into our Texas rules.

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Any
19 disagreement with that, Bonnie or Doris?

20 MS. WOLBRUECK: None at all.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Anyone else?
22 That recommendation, then, is accepted without 23 objection.

24 MR. ORSINGER: The next agenda
25 item is Page 135 and 136. This is the old

1 problem of hand-delivery after 5:00 p.m.
2 deemed served the following day. We debated 3 that several years ago when we were all young 4 and vigorous and decided that we weren't going 5 to go with the proposal, and so we are not 6 recommending any reconsideration of that 7 issue.

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Does anyone
9 disagree? The Committee has accepted the 10 recommendation.

11 MR. ORSINGER: The next agenda
12 item, Page 139 through 143, fax service only 13 upon written stipulation of the attorneys;
14 prohibit service of contempt motions directly 15 on the attorney. We like our fax service 16 rules that exist already. We recommend no
17 change there.

18 And we felt like it was not necessary to 19 put in the rules that you can't get service on 20 a lawyer on a motion for contempt because 21 everybody knows that if the relator or the 22 accused contender doesn't appear in contempt, 23 you can't have your hearing anyway. And this 24 is all governed by constitutional law. It's 25 well understood. There doesn't seem to be a

1 problem with it, and it was our view that this 2 was an unnecessary rule to cover a point that 3 is obvious and constitutional anyway.

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Does our rule 5 require that fax service be to the fax that's 6 on the opposite party's pleadings?

7 MR. ORSINGER: Yes.

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. That 9 was Dalton's big complaint, that Vinson & 10 Elkins had 300 fax machines and they were 11 serving him with -- at the time he was not a 12 litigator -- with litigation faxes, and he was 13 having to run them around and people were 14 playing tricks on him.

15 MR. ORSINGER: We debated that 16 extensively on this Committee, and the 17 Committee discussed the possibility of 18 allowing -- because sometimes the case is 19 being worked by an attorney that's not in 20 charge of everything, but if you ever once 21 turn loose the control of where the fax goes, 22 then you've lost the ability to know for sure 23 it's going to the right person. So I think 24 the Committee decided collectively that what's 25 in the pleadings governs, and if you want to 1 change that, you have to have an agreement or 2 a change in the pleadings.

3 CHAIRMAN SOULES: All right.
4 So you recommend no change. And you've got 5 that problem that is Dalton's main problem
6 covered in the rule already. Okay.

7 MR. ORSINGER: And on this due 8 process question, we don't think it's 9 advisable to write a rule saying specifically 10 you can't serve a lawyer on a motion for 11 contempt. The constitutionality of that 12 speaks for itself, and we don't think it's 13 worth writing a rule for.

14 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. Any 15 disagreement? No disagreement. Your 16 recommendation is no change, and it will be 17 accepted.

18 MR. ORSINGER: Okay. Agenda
19 item Pages 144 through 146 is a request that 20 the government be relieved from sending 21 certified mail. And way early on years ago 22 before anyone may remember it, as a result of 23 our subcommittee recommendation, we 24 recommended we eliminate certified mail
25 altogether. And the full Committee talked

1 about it, and I don't recall whether we voted 2 on it or not. I just don't recall, and I
3 don't even know that I have the transcripts 4 from the hearings that were that early on.
5 But our subcommittee had made the 6 recommendation that we go like the federal 7 rule does and just eliminate the certified 8 mail requirement on notice between lawyers.
9 And this was all at the time that we discussed 10 the fax, the overnight rule and all that 11 business, and I just have to confess I haven't 12 been able to find that we voted on it or 13 didn't vote on it.

14 MR. HAMILTON: It's a great 15 idea.

16 MR. ORSINGER: It seems to be 17 working on the federal side all right, and if 18 someone feigns service and falsifies it, you 19 can always get in court and have a hearing and 20 prove you didn't get it.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Sarah Duncan.

22 HON. SARAH DUNCAN: Maybe it's 23 just me, but I've had more trouble getting 24 served by the FDIC than any other party to any 25 other lawsuit I've ever been in. They log it

1 in on the government's log sheet and use that 2 as the date of mailing when it is not mailed
3 on that day. And it can be two weeks before 4 you get what they say they put in the mail two 5 weeks ago; in fact, the postmark on it is 6 three days ago, because it gets held in some 7 government office somewhere as logged in but 8 not sent out.

9 MR. ORSINGER: To me, that 10 doesn't support the idea that we ought to 11 require everybody to send everything by 12 certified mail. We're truly spending untold 13 amounts of money and time to go through the 14 return receipt process, and the federal system 15 has proved that it's not necessary in order to 16 have a justice system that everything be 17 served by certified mail. And our view was 18 that we just don't need that safeguard, and if 19 someone is victimized by a dishonest lawyer, 20 they can get the court to remedy it through 21 testimony and producing envelopes that have 22 postmarks and whatnot.

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: But what if 24 you don't get an envelope with a postmark?
25 What if you never get it?

1 MR. ORSINGER: Then you get
2 down there with your testimony that I didn't 3 get this until three days after my deadline to 4 respond.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: What if you
6 didn't get it at all; it never came?

7 MR. ORSINGER: Well, then 8 you're going to presumably see some kind of 9 order or something. If it's going to be 10 discovery, like I sent him answers to 11 interrogatories but he never got them, there's 12 a presumption of service on mailing, but 13 there's no presumption -- I mean, that can be 14 overcome by actual testimony you didn't 15 receive it. So then the victim becomes the 16 party who sent it who can't prove that it was 17 received. Now, you may wish to, when you're 18 supplementing discovery, to send it by 19 certified mail or to get a receipt from your 20 courier in order to protect against the 21 eventuality that the other lawyer is going to 22 lie and say you didn't get it. And there's no 23 harm in doing that and you can do that anytime 24 you want.

25 But the current rule requires that all

1 things that require service be by certified 2 mail even between lawyers that are honest and 3 trust each other. And there's a lot of money
4 that's spent for that, and we just don't -- it
5 was our view that it's not necessary. We're 6 not prohibiting you getting certified mail,
7 we're not prohibiting you getting a signed
8 receipt, we're just saying it's not necessary 9 and that you're going to have to, if there's a 10 dispute, have sworn testimony.

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I'm probably 12 in the minority on this, but to reason that 13 because something works in the federal system
14 that it would work in the state system, 15 particularly I think in this context, may be 16 flawed. The cases that are in the federal 17 system have a little different character.

18 MR. ORSINGER: Different
19 lawyers.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Different
21 lawyers may or may not have a different 22 approach, and the judges certainly have a 23 different volume of flow and deal with things 24 in different ways.

25 And if you go to docket call almost any

1 day on the daily docket in San Antonio, the 2 judge is going to ask somebody if you've got a
3 green card to prove service. And if there's a 4 discovery dispute about timely responses,
5 that's what the judge asks, "Do you have a 6 green card?" And that resolves it. If you've 7 got it and it shows it, it's done. If you
8 don't have it, then don't go do it again, 9 because you don't have proof. And these 10 hearings go very, very fast, and the issues 11 are eliminated.

12 It probably doesn't make any difference 13 in my practice anymore because my cases are 14 different and the lawyers I'm dealing with are 15 different. But I don't think it's a waste of 16 money to require the sending party to have 17 proof that the party sent something when the 18 issue is very important to a case. Maybe the 19 transaction cost of having everything done
20 that way is overpowering, but I favor 21 certified mail because it does establish 22 receipt.

23 And I'm more concerned about the sender 24 misrepresenting that something was sent than 25 the receiving party saying they never got it.

1 It's the never-received part of it that's a 2 big problem for me. The sender says, "I sent 3 it." Now you've got a swearing match. "I 4 didn't get it."

5 Or the other side of it is, "I got it and 6 I threw it in the trash. First class mail
7 never came" -- or "It came through but I never 8 got it." I think we're going to generate a 9 lot of disputes among people that are not as 10 sensitive to issues as most federal 11 practitioners are. That's enough said.
12 That's all I'm going to say about it. Sarah 13 Duncan.

14 HON. SARAH DUNCAN: Why do
15 trial judges need to be making these 16 credibility calls, I guess is my problem with 17 it. I'm not saying anybody would lie. I 18 don't know. I don't know that that's 19 generally -- that's not generally the problem
20 we see, at least in the court of appeals.
21 It's a question of disbursing
22 responsibilities, and to me, the green card
23 system that we've got now is not a problem.
24 It's dispositive, and it costs a dollar and a 25 half.

1 And if we really want to talk about 2 costs, I don't think that's where the costs in 3 litigation are. I think we're going to create 4 a problem that we now have completely pretty 5 much completely resolved.

6 I mean, if the FDIC comes in with their 7 government log that shows that it was mailed
8 and Luke Soules comes in and testifies, "Well, 9 Judge, I understand that their log shows it
10 was mailed, but I never received it," and it 11 happens to be in federal court, you know, or 12 state court, wherever, it doesn't really 13 matter, how is the trial judge supposed to 14 figure that out? Luke says he never got it.
15 The government's log shows it was sent. I 16 think that's adding a difficult call to a 17 system where that just shouldn't be 18 difficult. You show your green card. You 19 show when it was sent. You show when it was 20 received.

21 MR. ORSINGER: What I would say
22 is that it's very difficult to talk about what 23 life would be like without this rule in state 24 court because we have this rule. But surely 25 it's costing millions of dollars for us to

1 require the green card system to eliminate
2 those instances where we have one dishonest 3 lawyer and we don't want the judge to have to 4 decide which one it is. If you don't trust 5 the lawyer you're dealing with when you send 6 something, then send a green card and then 7 you'll have a return, or get it hand-delivered 8 and get a receipt signed and then you can 9 prove delivery.

10 The question is, in order to avoid 11 disputes where you have either an inadvertent 12 mistake or dishonesty, are we not spending too
13 much money requiring too many people to do
14 things that they don't need to do because of a 15 smaller number that are a problem?

16 And that problem, by the way, is curable 17 by anyone who wants to cure it in their 18 situation, because we're not prohibiting them
19 from sending a green card. It's just a 20 question of whether everyone must send a green 21 card so that the existence or nonexistence of 22 a return receipt is determinative of the 23 credibility issue in those situations where 24 lawyers are saying opposite things. That's 25 really what we're saying, that whoever sent it

1 loses if they don't have a green card because 2 a green card is required, and that's costing 3 million dollars.

4 And it also costs the labor costs, which 5 around my office is not insubstantial. At the 6 end of the day -- I have two employees, a 7 legal assistant and a secretary. At the end 8 of the day, the last 30 minutes of my 9 secretary's day is spent typing green cards.

10 Most of the lawyers I deal with I trust, 11 and I don't need those green cards in order to 12 keep myself from being screwed, but I'm 13 required to do it because the rules require 14 it. I don't know. I just feel differently
15 about it, that we're requiring everyone to do 16 it. We're not prohibiting anyone from doing 17 it. We're requiring everyone to do it just to 18 make those tough situations where two lawyers 19 disagree, to make them easier to resolve.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: The 21 certificate of service raises a presumption of 22 its correctness, so the lawyer that didn't get 23 it has to prove a negative, "I didn't get 24 it." That's not easy.

25 MR. ORSINGER: Well, if I slip

1 something under somebody's door after 5:00
2 o'clock and I don't have a receipt, I'm in the 3 same boat. I'm going to testify that I
4 slipped it under their door, but I've got no 5 way to prove that other than just my 6 credibility. I mean, I wish I knew how many 7 millions of dollars we were spending on this 8 so we could look at the cost of the rule.

9 MR. BABCOCK: We better think 10 about, when we're talking about costs, the 11 cost that it's going to take to the court
12 system to have to go back and redo everything 13 when nobody has notice and they can't prove it 14 and the judge can't decide who is lying and 15 who is not, because that's a cost too.

16 MR. ORSINGER: I really wonder 17 how much that's going to happen, because if 18 you have a dishonest lawyer, that will 19 surface, and then people will start sending 20 green cards and getting receipts.

21 HON. C. A. GUITTARD: It may 22 not be a matter of dishonesty. It may be a 23 matter of a failure of some secretary to turn 24 the thing over to the party that the letter
25 was to be served. If the lawyer says, "I

1 didn't get it," well, it may be his own office 2 that is at fault for not giving it to him when 3 it was probably served on somebody.

4 MR. BABCOCK: If you have a
5 green card, you say, "Well, wait a minute, who 6 is Susie Brown?"

7 "That's my receptionist." Oops.

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: David
9 Jackson.

10 MR. JACKSON: There's more
11 significance attached to a document that you 12 get that's got a green card on the back of 13 it. It won't get thrown in the trash as junk 14 mail or as something that's not of as much 15 significance as a certified letter.

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Alex.

17 PROFESSOR ALBRIGHT: Can't you 18 have an agreement that you don't have to send 19 everything by certified mail? It seems like 20 you should.

21 MR. ORSINGER: As a matter of 22 fact, in a lot of my cases, Alex, I just don't 23 comply with the rule when I have a lawyer on 24 the other side that I trust and that trusts me 25 and nobody cares, and they don't either,

1 because we don't ever try to take advantage of 2 each other. So yes, I mean, you can get 3 around it, but if you don't have an 4 understanding like that, then you've got to 5 spend the money and time.

6 MR. MARKS: Well, in my work I
7 may run across the same plaintiff's lawyer
8 once in five or 10 years. I don't know the 9 guy. I'll never see him again. That happens
10 a lot. In your business, divorce lawyers, you 11 all know each other; you've worked with each 12 other. There's a lot of accountability there 13 that does not exist in our world, honestly.

14 MR. ORSINGER: Well, because 15 of --

16 MR. MARKS: Take my word for 17 it.

18 MR. ORSINGER: Well, because of 19 your law practice -- I mean, do the problems 20 that you have because of that in your law 21 practice warrant that everyone everywhere has 22 to have to green card every time?

23 MR. MARKS: Well, there are an 24 awful lot of those lawyers out there, and it 25 seems to me that I sure have been glad that I

1 had those green cards a lot of times.

2 MR. ORSINGER: Of course, you
3 can always have your own green card. The 4 question for us really is whether they're 5 forced to have a green card on you. And if 6 they can't produce a green card, then you have 7 a slam-dunk case that you didn't get notice,
8 because you can always get your own green card
9 on them. The issue here is that if they can't 10 produce a green card, you win.

11 MR. MARKS: Well, why isn't it
12 the same? Aren't we talking the same issue, 13 just two sides of it?

14 MR. ORSINGER: No, because you
15 can always protect yourself on what you serve 16 on them by sending it by certified mail,
17 return receipt requested. What you can't 18 protect against is then they can up the fact 19 that they sent something to you, and you're 20 now trying to prove a negative that you never 21 got it. And in the ordinary situation, since 22 the law requires that they get a green card, 23 if they can't produce it, they lose. If we 24 take the rule away and they can't produce it, 25 then it's a swearing match.

1 MR. BABCOCK: So that's an 2 argument in favor of green cards.

3 MR. MARKS: Right, exactly.

4 MR. ORSINGER: That's your 5 argument. Your argument is not what you serve 6 on them, but refuting they served something on 7 you that they really didn't serve on you.

8 MR. MARKS: Well, I like to 9 know when I'm served, so I don't mind getting 10 a certified letter.

11 MR. BABCOCK: Let's vote.

12 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Those in 13 favor of certified mail show by hands. In 14 favor of certified mail. Eight.

15 Those opposed. Four.

16 Eight to four, we'll retain certified 17 mail.

18 MR. ORSINGER: Now, then the 19 subsidiary argument then arises of whether the 20 government should be relieved from sending 21 certified mail.

22 MR. MARKS: What's that,
23 Richard?

24 MR. ORSINGER: Well, then we 25 get back to the man's original proposal, which

1 is whether the government should be relieved
2 from the requirement of certified mail.

3 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Say not in 4 these rules. Is anybody in favor of 5 government exemption of certified mail?

6 Those opposed to government exemption of 7 certified mail?

8 We are unanimously opposed to that.

9 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: I'll vote
10 for certified mail for the government only.

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Bill says
12 certified mail for the government only.

13 MR. ORSINGER: Next is agenda
14 Pages 147 through 150, and these are --

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: So the vote
16 on that is no change. No change.

17 Okay. Thank you. Next is 147 through 18 150?

19 MR. ORSINGER: Yeah. Howard
20 Hasting doesn't like serving notice on a party 21 when the party is represented. We've already 22 fixed that. He also wants to say that service 23 can be effected on the last known address of 24 the agent or attorney if you can't find the 25 party. If the party is gone and their

1 attorney is also gone, then you can serve it
2 on the attorney's last known address.

3 Our feeling was that's such a remote
4 contingency, although there is some symmetry
5 that has intellectual attraction, it's not 6 sufficiently important to be in the rule.

7 CHAIRMAN SOULES: So you
8 recommend no change?

9 MR. ORSINGER: No change.

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: No change is 11 accepted. No opposition to that. That's 12 accepted.

13 MR. ORSINGER: Agenda 151
14 through 153. Same complaint, you shouldn't be 15 able to serve the client when they have an 16 attorney of record. That's already been 17 fixed.

18 I think these people were all outraged by 19 the same case, and we have eliminated that 20 glitch. The same thing occurs on Pages 154 to 21 156 and 157 and 158.

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. Except 23 you've got some change on 21?

24 MR. ORSINGER: Yes. And I'll 25 talk about that.

1 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay.

2 MR. ORSINGER: Norman Kinzy's
3 letter, Pages 157 to 158, also raises the 4 issue about a reference in a rule that's 5 nonsensical, and we agree that it's wrong, and 6 we ought to drop the reference to Rule 21 from 7 Rule 21b, and then that eliminates the 8 discrepancy. It was a valid observation.

9 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Any
10 opposition? That's accepted.

11 MR. ORSINGER: The next item is 12 agenda Page 182 which is Federal Rule 15(c) 13 involving the relation back doctrine for 14 amended pleadings. It's our recommendation 15 that we have no rule that relates to the 16 relation back doctrine. The rule on causes of 17 action is case law, not rule driven -- pardon
18 me, it's statutory and not rule driven now.
19 And additionally, the relation back problem 20 that occurs when you amend your pleadings and 21 inadvertently drop a party who you then rejoin 22 in a subsequent amended pleading, we have 23 specifically fixed that by rule. The statute 24 of limitations will not run if you 25 inadvertently drop a defendant, catch it, and

1 then reinstate them.

2 You may recall the long debate about it, 3 that it requires an announcement of nonsuit in 4 order for you to nonsuit a party, et cetera,
5 et cetera. And there was a Supreme Court case 6 a couple of years ago, and we've reacted to 7 that, and we've already approved a rule that 8 those inadvertent omissions from an amended
9 pleading do not actually effect a dismissal 10 against an omitted party.

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: You recommend 12 no change?

13 MR. ORSINGER: No change other 14 than what we've already --

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Other than 16 what's already been done?

17 MR. ORSINGER: Yeah.

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Any
19 opposition? That's accepted.

20 MR. ORSINGER: The next agenda
21 item is 209, Paul Harris doesn't like 22 Rule 76a. Our recommendation is let's not 23 eliminate Rule 76a unless the Supreme Court 24 tells us to.

25 MR. MARKS: I don't know --

1 CHAIRMAN SOULES: There was one
2 effort to do that after the composition of the 3 Court changed.

4 MR. ORSINGER: The letter was 5 written in 1990, John, so I think there were 6 still some tempers at that time.

7 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, we were 8 told by the chief that the Court wasn't 9 interested and they were going to leave it 10 like it was.

11 So you recommend no change on 76a?

12 MR. ORSINGER: No change. And 13 I want to further point out, as mentioned in 14 this disposition table, that Judge Brister has 15 moved to drop 76a(2)(c), which has to do with 16 unfiled discovery, and we have tabled that 17 pending the outcome of General Tire vs.
18 Kepple, which is under submission to the 19 Supreme Court to determine to what extent a 20 confidentiality order as to unfiled discovery 21 is or is not a 76a motion, and we have 22 previously voted to table that until we find 23 out the difference between a 76a proceeding
24 and a confidentiality proceeding.

25 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Put this on

1 the agenda, Holly. Each time we'll carry it
2 on the agenda until we get some direction.
3 Okay. Next.

4 MR. ORSINGER: Okay. Next
5 takes us to supplemental agenda -- well, no,
6 it doesn't. It's the regular agenda, Page 4, 7 and Greg Enos wants to ban smoking from 8 depositions and court proceedings. And the 9 Discovery Committee has recommended against 10 that. We've already approved that. It's our 11 view that the county commissioners control who 12 smokes in the county courthouse. The city
13 council will control who smokes in office
14 buildings, and maybe the federal government
15 will control who smokes anywhere. I don't 16 know. But it's just not for us to decide in 17 this rule. That's our committee
18 recommendation. No change.

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: And we have a 20 rule in our office and a lot of buildings do 21 to take care of that too.

22 MR. ORSINGER: It's just a
23 building-wide rule.

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: No change?

25 MR. ORSINGER: No change.

1 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Is anyone
2 opposed? That's accepted.

3 MR. ORSINGER: That moves us to 4 second supplement, Page 139 through all the 5 rest of the entries which goes to Page 186.
6 All of them relate to the Supreme Court
7 promulgating uniform rules for private process
8 serving. And we have decided that that is a 9 political question. The legislature has 10 refused to do that. These proposals usually 11 would require the secretary of state to 12 maintain a registry and whatnot. There's no 13 allocation of money. We have no ability to 14 allocate that money. It's just our -- we 15 repeatedly recommend that this is not an issue 16 to be addressed by the rule, and that applies, 17 then, to the next five items on the 18 supplemental disposition table.

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Let's see.

20 MR. ORSINGER: This is part of 21 kind of a chain letter deal. In other words, 22 everybody sent the same letter with the same 23 suggestion to show a groundswell of support 24 for it.

25 MR. JACKSON: For process

1 servers.

2 MR. ORSINGER: And it gets to 3 the same thing, and I believe we've already 4 rejected this in another form. It's just not 5 in our rule making authority to tell the 6 secretary of state to open up some kind of 7 registration process for an industry, besides 8 which, different counties have different 9 standards.

10 Bexar County requires the posting of a 11 bond. You have to have either an insurance 12 policy or a bond. Other counties have 13 prescribed lists. We would be stepping into 14 the middle of a fight that even the 15 legislature won't step into.

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: We changed
17 Rule 103 at a time when a lot of counties had 18 a problem because neither the sheriffs nor the 19 constables wanted to serve civil process. In 20 some counties they didn't want the job. And 21 the civil process servers were emerging. This 22 came up, I don't know when, let's see, it 23 looks like maybe '87, '81 maybe. And so we 24 said, "Anyone authorized by law or written 25 order of the court who is not less than

1 18 years of age," blanket. They can get it
2 how they can from the courts. That was first 3 interpreted to mean it had to be done on a 4 case-by-case basis in some places, but that 5 was soon abandoned when the judges didn't want 6 to do it all the time, particularly in the 7 counties where the sheriffs and constables
8 didn't want to do the job.

9 So now it's pretty much by blanket
10 order. Some requirements are imposed. And 11 now the ground has shifted to they want to 12 have a cottage industry to where there are 13 only certain people who have certain 14 credentials that can do this so that there's a 15 limited number of people, and I don't think we 16 need anything else, just to give you a little 17 background on it.

18 But your recommendation is no change
19 anyway, right?

20 MR. ORSINGER: That's right.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. No
22 change.

23 MR. ORSINGER: And even if we 24 wanted to change it, I don't think we have the 25 constitutional power to change it, at least

1 insofar as the secretary of state is 2 concerned.

3 CHAIRMAN SOULES: They've tried 4 to get the legislature to put this under 5 private investigators and have a separate 6 agency and all kinds of things, and the 7 legislature just stayed out of it too. Okay.

8 MR. ORSINGER: That concludes,
9 then, our part of this agenda. We still have 10 pending matters that are reflected on our 11 disposition table, but they are all well known 12 venue related things like that.

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. What's 14 next on the agenda?

15 MR. ORSINGER: Paula Sweeney.

16 MR. MARKS: How about 17 adjournment?

18 MR. ORSINGER: Don Hunt has an 19 item that might just be one letter.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's what I
21 was thinking about.

22 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: Don, 23 you're on.

24 MR. MARKS: 30 seconds, Don.

25 MR. HUNT: I have the only

1 copy. We'll have to do this orally and fast.
2 This is a matter that Holly called to my 3 attention that appeared to be merely an 4 attachment to somebody else's letter. It was 5 not. It was a separate submission by John 6 Chapin, and he suggested that we adopt a new 7 rule that would compare to Federal Rule of 8 Civil Procedure 52(c) and that we stick that 9 in Rule 296 or 297 or somewhere.

10 Rule 52(c) permits a court to make a 11 finding of fact where it has rendered a 12 judgment as a matter of law; that is, you'll 13 recall that in the federal system, under 14 Rule 50(a), when a party moves for judgment as 15 a matter of law, it is really saying that 16 there are no disputed issues of material fact 17 and that one is entitled to judgment as a 18 matter of law. And Rule 52(c) comes along and 19 permits some sort of binding to be made with 20 respect to that; that is, to simply say that 21 the evidence has been heard and based on this 22 evidence there's no disputed issue of fact;
23 there's nothing to go to the jury. The idea 24 is to spell out in the trial record and 25 eventually the appellate record that this is

1 why the trial judge made the judgment as a
2 matter of law, because the judge really found 3 that there was no dispute.

4 I don't know whether we need this. We 5 have a proposed Rule 301(c), and that's 6 something else that you don't have before you.

7 CHAIRMAN SOULES: So you
8 recommend that we don't need this change?

9 MR. HUNT: I don't see it.
10 Right now we have Rule 301(c), which is the 11 motion to modify judgment, and that was sent 12 to the Supreme Court with our package back 13 last July. And under the motion to modify the 14 judgment we have the same procedure as the 15 federal system. We've tried to follow Bill
16 Dorsaneo's teaching and use similar language 17 in here in making our motion to modify 18 judgment at least in this area to really be 19 the same as the federal system.

20 But we just don't have a place for a 21 trial judge to record why the trial judge is 22 granting the motion for judgment as a matter 23 of law because there's been a determination in 24 a particular area that an affirmative defense 25 has been conclusively established or there's

1 some missing element in the plaintiff's case
2 or something else of that ilk.

3 So I don't know that we need it. We've 4 never had it. We've never suffered without 5 it. It was adopted late in the game in the 6 federal scheme of things, and I don't know 7 that it does that much good in the federal 8 scheme of things.

9 CHAIRMAN SOULES: What do you
10 recommend?

11 MR. HUNT: I recommend -- well,
12 our subcommittee has never considered it.

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: What do you
14 recommend?

15 MR. HUNT: I recommend that we 16 forget it.

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Does anyone
18 disagree with that, to find that it's not 19 necessary in our practice to have this rule?
20 That's what Don, I think, is saying. Does 21 anyone disagree with that? Does anyone want 22 to -- okay. So we all agree, then, that 23 that's not necessary to our practice and at 24 this time there will be no rule in that 25 regard.

1 All right. It's almost 5:30. What can 2 we do next?

3 MR. BABCOCK: Is there anything
4 else we can do?

5 MR. ORSINGER: Can we talk
6 about tomorrow morning?

7 PROFESSOR DORSANEO: I can
8 finish mine if you give me about an hour now.
9 I can finish it all off.

10 MR. ORSINGER: Bill has all of 11 the pleadings, parties and all that stuff, and 12 I'm wondering if we could do that in the 13 morning, count on that, and tell everybody 14 we're going to start with that, or do we have 15 a lot of other things that what you want to do 16 instead?

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: We can do
18 that.

19 MS. DUDERSTADT: That's all we 20 have, unless Paula Sweeney shows up.

21 MR. ORSINGER: We better have 22 Bill, and we'll have Paula as a fallback in 23 case Bill doesn't show.

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Let's see,
25 we've done No. 9. We've done Buddy Low,

1 that's 10. We've got Bill's information on 2 No. 11 and 12 and 13. And Paula is Item 8.
3 We've done seven. Peeples is on Rule 171, and 4 I guess we could do that now.

5 Thank you all very much. You've put in a 6 hard, hard day. We'll see you at 8:00
7 o'clock. 8:00 o'clock.
