Scheduling

1. The following court schedules are established to reduce occupancy in the court building: The volume in a municipal court is substantially higher than other types of courts in Texas. In an effort to reduce occupancy in The City of Dallas Municipal Court building, the following protocols have been established. Beginning June 12, 2020, the City of Dallas Municipal Courthouse will limit occupancy to 25%. Only four courtrooms will operate with in person proceedings as follows. City of Dallas Security and the Dallas Marshall's Office (Court Bailiffs) will monitor the total number of people allowed in the courthouse at one time. Throughout the court building, markers for standing and for seating identify the appropriate social distance for each individual to maintain. Only ten persons at a time will be allowed in each courtroom with appropriate social distancing directives within the courtroom provided for seating and standing, and with oversight by the court bailiff. Court dockets have been spread throughout the day at one hour intervals to accommodate the maximum 10 person per courtroom docket requirement. The remaining seven courtrooms will continue with remote proceedings according to the City of Dallas Municipal Court Schedule Effective July 5, 2020, or until further guidance. Trial scheduling will begin after August 1, 2020, absent further directive from the Texas Supreme Court and/or Regional Presiding Judge for the administrative judicial region. Trials will be held on the 1st, 3rd, and 5th Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday according to the published City of Dallas Municipal Court Schedule and in order to accommodate the maximum 10 person per courtroom trial docket. All arraignments and magistrations will continue to be conducted remotely via Teams.

Vulnerable Populations

Individuals who are over age 65 and individuals with serious underlying health conditions, such as high blood pressure, chronic lung disease, diabetes, obesity, asthma, and those whose immune systems are compromised such as by chemotherapy for cancer or other conditions requiring such therapy are considered to be vulnerable populations.
2. Each judge will include information on orders setting hearings, dockets notices, and in other communications notifying individuals who are in vulnerable populations of the ability to contact the court to identify themselves as a vulnerable individual and receive accommodations. A notice with this information will be posted on the courts' websites and in conspicuous locations around the court building (a copy of which is attached).
