Calli Bailey has been licensed to practice law in the State of Texas since 2011. Prior to joining the Collin County District Attorney's Office, she worked as a briefing attorney on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin, Texas from 2011-2012.

In August of 2012, she joined the DA's Office under District Attorney Greg Willis. Ms. Bailey was promoted to felony in 2015 and has tried everything from drug possession, to aggravated sexual assault, to a death verdict on capital murder. In October 2018, Ms. Bailey was promoted to Chief of Collin County's brand new Conviction Integrity Unit, reviewing post-conviction claims of actual innocence and overseeing the office's law enforcement and forensic lab disclosure compliance procedures. In fall of 2020, she was appointed to the Texas Forensic Science Commission Licensing Advisory Committee and is currently serving her second term. Most recently, in June of 2022, Ms. Bailey became the supervisor of the Misdemeanor Trial Division at the Collin County DA's Office.
